THOUSANDS IN NAPLES STREETS HONOR CARUSO AT FUNERAL

Men and Women Who Have Played Important Roles on Operatic Stage in Choir at Mass — Throng Outside Church Stand With Heads Bared.

PATHETIC SCENES AT BIER IN HOTEL

Prayers Offered by Many Who View Body; Garlands of Roses Arranged by Mrs. Caruso at Dead Singer's Side.

$1,250,000 Estimate of Caruso Fortune

By the Associated Press.
NAPLES, Aug. 3.—Enrico Caruso, according to estimates in the newspaper, left a fortune of about $20,000,000 lire. At the normal value of the lire this would represent about $6,000,000.

At the present rate of exchange it would be slightly more than $1,250,000.

By the Associated Press.
NAPLES, Aug. 3.—Sorrowing Naples and Italy today paid tribute to the memory of Enrico Caruso, the great tenor, who died here yesterday morning. Thousands gathered at a solemn requiem mass celebrated at the Church of Madonna della Gracia, stood uncovered along the streets leading to that edifice, while the funeral cortège passed. In the choir which assisted in the impressive ceremonies were many men and women who have played stellar roles on the operatic stage.

Scenes of extreme pathos were enacted all day yesterday at the Hotel Vesuvio following the death of the man popularly acknowledged to be the premier tenor of his generation. Neapolitans of every class stood in line for hours to file past the bier of Caruso, which was placed in the room where he had died. From time to time the silent procession would pause while some man or woman would kneel for a moment beside the body and offer prayer.

Roses Arranged by Wife.
The body was clad in evening clothes and over it was shed the melancholy light of four candles, two at the head and two at the feet. At the dead tenor's side were garlands of roses arranged personally by Mrs. Caruso.

The sculptor, Cibarile, today took a death mask of Caruso. The Mayor and Municipal Council of Naples solemnly commemorated the famous singer whose death, the Mayor declared, was an irreparable loss to Italian lyric art.

Caruso apparently was cognizant of his critical condition, following his sudden illness on Monday. "Just before he sank into the coma which was the prelude to the end, he said to his son, Rodolfo:

"I feel very ill. This time it will be difficult to escape."

Newspapers of this city, in telling of the death of Caruso, quoted one of the attending physicians as saying:

"And my colleagues believe Caruso never fully recovered from his illness in New York last winter. His long sickness from pleurisy weakened his resistance."

His death occurred after he had been brought here hurriedly from Sorrento on the Bay of Naples, where less than a week ago he showed his returning strength and expressed the conviction that he would sing again as in the old days.

He had been able to visit the famous sanctuary of Our Lady of Pompeii, giving thanks offering for his recovery.

Attended Luncheon.
He went also to the Island of Capri, where he attended a luncheon in his honor. But soon afterwards unfavorable symptoms, in the form of a high fever, manifested themselves, and his wife telegraphed to a Rome specialist to come to Sorrento: there they discovered that a new internal abscess had developed.

Caruso's removal to Rome for an operation was advised, but he showed such weakness that it was impossible to transfer him further than Naples, where he arrived Sunday evening. Four eminent physicians were called in consultation, and their examination showed the presence of a subphrenic abscess, accompanied by severe peritonitis.

An operation was decided upon,

OPINION AGAINST DRINKERS' STANDING CLOSE TO THE BAR

Assistant Attorney-General Says Drinkers Must Not Be Close Enough to Discard Glass.
MADISON, Wis., Aug. 3.
By the Associated Press.
DRINKERS of nonintoxicating liquors in Wisconsin must stand far enough away from the bar to be unable to place their foot on the rail or to set the glass on the counter in order to keep from violating the law, according to an opinion of J. E. Messerchmidt, Assistant Attorney-General, to M. J. Paul, District Attorney of Green Lake.

BROTHER, LEFT $1000, TO GET ONLY $1 IF HE CONTESTS WILL

Testament of Emily Mukish Asks for Cremation and Says She Would Welcome Death.

By the will of Emily Mukish, 50 years old, who died Monday at her home, 3700 West Pine boulevard, which was filed in the Probate Court today, she left $1000 to her brother, Joseph C. Mukish, 6014 Loretta avenue, with the stipulation that if he tries to break the will he is to have only $1.

To her "kind and good friend," Dr. Frank L. Henderson, who, she said, gave her sight, she bequeathed $1000, not as pay for his services but as "little keepsake from Em. To Dr. Alfred Tausig and Dr. John Shapleigh, who treated her without charge, she bequeathed $200 each.

She gave Mrs. Lizzie Williams of Griggsville, Ill., $500, in the hope that it will help her in her hard struggle for life. To Mrs. Thomas K. Francis and Miss Jennie Brown, 3446 Lindell boulevard, she left $500, to the Missouri Association for the Blind, $250, and to the Blind Girls' Home, $500.

Ellen L. Clark, 4957 McPherson avenue, named as executrix with instructions to have her body cremated garbed in white, "with as little fuss as possible." She says she would have it without a service if it were not that without some friends' feelings might be hurt.

"My life has been lonely," she says, "and I shall welcome the visitor death."

AVIATOR SUED FOR $50,000 BY PASSENGER HURT IN FALL

Saleman Claims John Hinckley Lost Control of Plane During Flight on July 19.

A suit for $50,000 was filed in Circuit Court at Clayton today against John Hinckley of 19 Yale avenue, University City, an aviator, by Joseph Barrale of 5226 Bischoff avenue, salesman, who was injured in fall of Hinckley's airplane in which he was a passenger in Forest Park July 19.

Barrale alleged that he paid $1000 to Hinckley, and that the aviator lost control of his craft at an altitude of 55 feet. In the resulting fall, Barrale declares he suffered fractures of the skull, nose and jaw, numerous lacerations, lost the sight of his right eye and that his left eye also was impaired.

Roses Arranged by Wife.

HEAD OF CLOSED CHICAGO BANK IS TRACED TO MEXICO

Warren C. Spurgin Believed to Be in Chihuahua City, Says State's Attorney's Office.

INQUIRY INDICATES LOSS OF $1,124,368

State Examiner Says Missing Official Kept Books at Apparent Balance by Listing Worthless Securities.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—Warren C. Spurgin, fugitive president of the defunct Michigan Avenue Trust Co., has been traced to Mexico. It was announced by the State's Attorney's office last night. He is believed to be in Chihuahua City.

A report of the bank examiner who has been working on the books of the bank yesterday indicated that the loss may total $1,124,368. It is hoped, however, that this amount may be reduced by the determination of the value of loans, bonds and stocks now listed as doubtful.

At the close of business on July 26, according to the examiner's report, Spurgin had the bank's books in perfect balance. In his showing of assets, however, he had included items totaling $1,595,495, which the examiner now lists as doubtful or actually worthless. This sum was reduced by the discovery of assets.

Spurgin, it is said, kept the books in apparent balance by substituting forged or dubious securities for one of undoubted value and by memoranda which indicated certain securities were in the bank vaults when he had confiscated them for his own use.

A telegram announcing that a reward of $2500 would be paid for the capture of Spurgin was sent to Marfa, Tex., and a number of towns in Mexico last night by the State's Attorney's office.

THOUSANDS GATHER IN NAPLES STREETS FOR CARUSO FUNERAL

but the patient's condition became suddenly worse at 4:30 in the morning, and he died soon afterwards. Prior to this heart stimulation was recorded to hourly.

In order that Caruso should not tire himself, the attending physicians ordered him not to speak, so, during his last night, he uttered no word. Of the members of his family present at the deathbed the most pathetic was his mother, who had always clung obstinately to her little home, despite her son's efforts to accustom her to the material comforts of life.

Others at Bedside.

Present also at the bedside were his wife, who was Dorothy, daughter of Park Benjamin of New York; Caruso's little daughter, Gloria, and his son, Rodolfo; his brother, Giovanni; several nephews and the composers, Vincenzo Bellagio and Paolo Longone.

For a time after his arrival in Italy, Caruso showed improvement, his native air having a beneficial effect. Nevertheless, he conserves his strength and for this reason was obliged to refuse a request to sing at a reception given by the Admiralty to Count Hashimoto of Japan. That his voice remained strong and clear was evidenced when recently he sang before the soprano Hidago and the baritone Montesanto, who expressed their delight.

There was grave anxiety, however, when Caruso, only a few days ago, began to show signs of depression. The rising temperature which had characterized previous attacks recurred, and steadily his condition grew worse until Saturday, when he suffered from violent pains in the abdominal region. The medical consultation followed and it was apparent that the patient was not only suffering acute physical pain, but that his heart was racing rapidly. Oxygen was administered and other measures were taken to prolong his vitality.

It is recalled that when Caruso lay gravely stricken in New York, he had expressed the wish that he might die in Italy.

The feeling of Italians has always been one of pride that Caruso for so many years represented the musical genius of their race. And not only that—many of them had found a friend in the beloved singer in time of need.

Caruso Acclaimed by Audiences Despite Calumnies Involving Women.

By Lester W. Frost, of the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—In a career so conspicuous it was perhaps inevitable that he should become a target for pointed shafts that proved sometimes unpleasant. His name was associated with those of women, some of whom claimed to have been married to him. Ada Giacchetti went further than the others by suing him for desertion. The case was settled out of court and is said to have net $160,000 to the woman's pocket.

It is evident that Caruso took most to heart as his arrest in November, 1906, on a charge of having made himself offensive to a woman in the

Personal Glimpses of Caruso by His Press Agent; Career in America

By EDWARD L. BERNAYS, Personal Representative and Press Agent for Enrico Caruso, NEW YORK, Aug. 3.

WEN Caruso went on a concert tour to Cincinnati, Toledo and Pittsburgh in the spring of 1917, I had the privilege of being his publicist. When Caruso walked or rode, he was the center of attraction. To be with him was like being with the sun. He obliterated everything else.

At the Hotel Gibson in Cincinnati, four of the largest rooms had been reserved, arranged as drawing room, bedroom, dining room and servant's room.

"It is too magnificent; let us give back one room," he said. "I do not need a separate dining room."

The retainer of four established simultaneously, the owner of a 16-room suite at the Knickerbocker, was unbalanced by the large windows behind him. The dining room was crowded, but at the first touch of the draft, without the slightest compunction, Caruso slid under the table and would not return until he had received assurance that the windows were closed and danger of draft removed. Then he smiled at his surprised audience.

At another place, on a shopping tour, Caruso expressed a desire for a particular brand of cologne water. They had only very small bottles of the perfume. Caruso was not at all perturbed. "Give me a gallon altogether," he said.

They wrapped up the bottle and the ten walked away.

Following are the salient facts of Enrico Caruso's musical career in America:

Appearances at Metropolitan Opera House, New York, $90.

Seasons at Metropolitan, 18.

Total opera performances in United States, $90.

Number of Americans who heard him sing, about 3,500,000.

Number of opera performances given, 3000.

Annual income (reported), $500,000.

From sale of music records $300,000.

For each Metropolitan performance, $500.

Special performances at Havana, Mexico and Buenos Aires, each $10,000.

Monkey house in Central Park. He protested his innocence and raised the question of identity, but the Magistrate before whom he was arraigned found him guilty and fined him $10. He appealed from the judgment and Justice Goff upheld the Magistrate.

In the course of the proceedings, which were reported in the European newspapers in almost as great detail as in this city, Caruso cabled to his old father in Naples, swearing his innocence "upon the head" of the father, a form of oath held in great reverence in Naples, for if false it invokes endless curse upon the maker of it.

Lived Prosperously.

Italian here and at home accepted that with its traditional value and the Metropolitan organization claimed him with special favor on the strength of it. So that incident passed. Caruso let the fine stand without appeal beyond Justice Goff, saying he felt his vindication sufficiently complete in public opinion without further recourse to the law.

From that time he escaped calamity on account of women. His life ran along prosperous lines. He had made and kept many American friends. His unfailing consideration and good humor won him high place in the affections of the Metropolitan force on both sides of the Atlantic, and he seemed to have settled down in pleasant places.

Bonci, a rival tenor, was for a time seemingly a disturbing factor, though there was never danger that Bonci could usurp his place as a public favorite. A stage difference with Geraldine Farrar, when as Carmen she pushed Don Jose a trifle roughly and in turn got a pinch on the arm that threw her off her balance, varied the placid monotony of stage doings, but these were ripples. In 1910 some black hand-rippers demanded that Caruso deposit $10,000 where they could find it, and for time Caruso, both on and off stage, was attended by a guard, who soon passed over and he did not receive the $10,000.

Altogether he led a quiet, well-ordered existence worked hard at his many roles, enjoyed some temporary company, won such a reputation as a cartoonist at social gatherings as was said of him he might have become a great picture maker if his art had not run to music, and was a popular figure in city life.

Married Lawyer's Daughter.

He leaped suddenly into a new glaze when, in August, 1918, he married Dorothy Park Benjamin against the vehement protest of Park Benjamin, her lawyer father, and others of her family. They went on their honeymoon to Italy and by the time of their return some of the family had decided to accept the situation. Their life proved happy. A daughter was born to them in December, 1919, and Miss Gloria Caruso is now figure in all the doings of the Carusos.

In the summer of 1920, when a bid of $10,000 a performance led Caruso to accept an invitation to visit Havana, a theft of jewelry with a given value of $400,000 was reported from the Caruso summer home at East Hampton, L. I. Mrs. Caruso was greatly disturbed by it, perhaps for the value of the jewels and then for fear it might worry the tenor and interfere with the artistic success of the Cuban visit.

A telegram from him set her at rest. It said simply: "Never mind; we can get others." The jewels carried insurance for part value. The theft was never traced.

Caruso was born in Naples, Feb. 25, 1873. His father was a blacksmith. He was devoted to his mother, who always encouraged him to believe he would become one of the world's greatest singers.

National Caruso Memorial Planned By Italians in New York.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—Plans for the establishment of a national Caruso memorial were begun after few hours after the news of his death was received by the Order of the Sons of Italy, embracing about 175,000 Italian Americans.

Dr. Tefano Miele, national master of the organization, called a meeting of the supreme council for today to consider the form of the memorial. It is probable, Dr. Miele said, that a Caruso foundation for training young opera singers or a Caruso theater for the purpose of presenting Italian opera would be established. Proceeds from the theater would be used to aid young singers. Leading patrons of art will be asked to join in the movement.

"Enrico Caruso," said Dr. Miele, "did more for the Italian race in this country than any single indi-

IRISH UNITY ATTEMPT DELAYS SINK FEIN REPLY

Effort Was Made to Get Ulster's Adhesion to British Peace Proposal.

By the Associated Press.

DUBLIN, Aug. 3.—The sole reason for the delay in the Sinn Fein's reply to the Government's Irish peace proposal, it is authoritatively stated, is the attempt being made to secure the adhesion of Ulster to the peace plan before returning to the negotiations with Premier Lloyd George, so he could be met by a united Ireland.

In Toledo I took occasion to remark that his emerald studs and cuff buttons were very beautiful. "Like Diamond Jim Brady's," I suggested mildly.

"Better than Diamond Jim's," was the quick response, "much better," and the tenor turned to stroke them just before going to the stage. "Una Furtiva Leggi."

Rejected to Sit in Draft.

In Cincinnati Caruso was sitting at a table after the concert, when a waiter opened one of the large windows behind him. The dining room was crowded, but at the first touch of the draft, without the slightest compunction, Caruso slid under the table and would not return until he had received assurance that the windows were closed and danger of draft removed. Then he smiled at his surprised audience.

Lord Northampton Engaged to Daughter of Marquis

Announcement Recalls Breach of Promise Suit Against Him Settled for 50,000 Pounds.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The recently announced engagement of the Marquis of Northampton to the daughter of the Marquis of Bath recalls the sensational breach of promise suit brought against the former some years ago by Daisy Markham, an actress. The case was settled for the record damages of $50,000 pounds.

Lord Northampton went through the war as a Captain of the Royal Horse Guards. In 1917 his engagement to Mrs. Coke, a war widow, was announced. Society was startled for a few days by the announcement that the marriage would not take place.

Lord Northampton was one of the biggest real estate owners in London up to a few years ago, when he sold practically all his holdings.

MURDERED MAN'S WATCH, MONEY AND WHISKY ARE LEFT

Police Seek Other Motive Than Robbery in Killing of Adolph Rokuta, Shoe Repairer.

THREE THAT WERE HELD ARE RELEASED

Men Who Went Driving on Monday With Victim, Say
They Left Him at a Hall
After Some Drinking.

A motive other than robbery is being looked for by the police today in their effort to clear the mystery of the murder of Adolph Rokuta, a shoe repairer, who was found dead in his shop at 2224 Cass avenue at 11 a.m. yesterday with his throat cut and with marks as of a beating on his head.

Rokuta's gold watch was in his pocket when he was found. His money, $245 in currency, was in the drawer of a kitchen table. In the kitchen also was a bottle said by the police to contain whisky. The police believe that the watch, money and whisky would not have been left behind by robbers.

Drew $900 From Bank.

It was learned that Rokuta drew $900 in cash from a bank July 23, but it is not known what disposition he made of this money.

William Prasek, a musician, of 1721 Geyer avenue; Emil Klecka, a shoemaker, 1827 Geyer avenue, and Joseph Ulrich, a shoe dealer, 1719 South Fourteenth street, who were detained to be questioned by the police last night, were released today.

The three said they were automobile riding with Rokuta on Monday afternoon, but said he left him at the National Bohemian Gymnasium, Delmar street and Allen avenue, at 5 p.m. Monday and did not see him after that.

Prasek said he and Klecka went to Rokuta's shop in an automobile about 3 p.m. Monday and induced him to join them for a ride. Later they were joined by Ulrich. They drove to several saloons, Prasek said, and finally to the Bohemian Hall. Rokuta refused to accompany them further, he said, and they left him there.

Adm. Having Had Drinks.

The three men under arrest said the party had drinks at several saloons before going to Bohemian Hall. They said they returned to the hall that night to attend a lodge initiation. The police say they have not yet accounted for their movements after the initiation.

Persons living near Rokuta's shop told policemen they heard several men quarreling in the shop about 10 p.m. Monday.

Near Rokuta's body when it was found were a white-handled razor and a heavy file, both stained with blood. A rear door had been broken down.

An inquest was begun today, but was adjourned until tomorrow to give the police additional time to gather evidence. Mayor McCall of 2222 Cass avenue told of entering by the back door and finding the body after he had gone to the shop to have work done and had found the front door locked. She said she heard loud voices in the room back of the shop Monday night. A man of "foreign appearance" sometimes visited Rokuta, she said, and several times she saw this man eating breakfast with Rokuta. Other witnesses and policemen testified as to the finding of the body, but gave no testimony that threw light on the murder mystery.

FORD'S FREIGHT RATE CUTS ON HIS ROAD TOO RAPID FOR I. C. C.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—Freight rate reductions on Henry Ford's Toledo, Detroit & Ironton Railroad have been too rapid to comply with the Interstate Commerce Commission's regulations. His application to fix a tariff reducing by 20 per cent the rates on stone from Sibley, Mich., to Detroit, was held this session denied by the commission. Ford put into effect a reduction July 15 of 5 cents a hundred on this traffic and under the regulations 30 days must elapse before additional reductions can be made in the same traffic.

Trois Hurts Man From Motor Cycle.
James Goodnight, 21 years old, 2219 Bryan avenue, Granite City, is in St. Eliz. Hospital suffering from a probable fracture of the spine and internal injuries suffered last night when his motor cycle was struck by a Burlington freight train at the Twenty-first street crossing in Granite City. Goodnight was thrown high into the air and landed in a coal car 25 feet away. A companion who was riding in a sidecar escaped with a few bruises. The motor cycle was demolished.

Housing Bonds Building Association.
At the annual meeting of the board of directors of the St. Charles Building and Loan Association yesterday, the following officers were elected for the coming year: A. R. Johnson, president; Julius F. Rauch, vice president; Osmund Haenaster, secretary-treasurer. A resolution was adopted to increase the capital stock from $100,000 to $600,000. The proposition will be placed before stockholders at a meeting Oct. 3.

DEPUTY WHO MADE CHARGES AGAINST WILLMANN ACCUSED

July 9, he summoned Deputy Sheriff Robert Goericke of Wellston to go to Clayton and go out on the Olive Street road where Werremeyer had been informed there had been a whisky still in operation. Gardner asked if he went in his automobile, and Werremeyer answered that he did not own one and went in Goericke's car. Asked if he had anything to drink at the farm, which was that of Louis Wolfsberger, he was answered that Wolfsberger had "set em up" while he was waiting for Sheriff Willmann, whom he had called by telephone.

He said the raid was made by the Federal authorities and it was up to him to take charge of the prosecution.

He denied that Mueller tried to induce him to make an affidavit against any person found in the raid. He did not want to sign the affidavit, but Mueller explained that Guy Hyde said the men who had made the place to report violations of the law.

He said the raid was made by the Federal authorities and it was up to him to take charge of the prosecution.

He denied that Mueller tried to induce him to make an affidavit against any person found in the raid. He did not want to sign the affidavit, but Mueller explained that Guy Hyde said the men who had made the place to report violations of the law.

He was asked if he knew Earl Cox, 5343 Easton avenue, or Elmer Carter. He replied that he did not know either by name.

"Did you not sell a gallon of moonshine to Carson for $10?" Gardner asked.

"No," Werremeyer replied. "I have not sold any moonshine to anyone at any time."

Said He Told of Raid.

He said that he told Prosecuting Attorney Mueller of the raid on the day following its occurrence. He said that Prohibition Enforcement Officer Hoover, Deputy Sheriff Stuckman and reporter were present during the raid. In response to a question how the reporter knew of the impending raid, he replied that he informed that Hoover had informed him.

Werremeyer testified that on the afternoon of July 17 Stuckman suggested that they call in Hoover to raid the Wolfsberger farm. He said he and Stuckman went to the Majestic Hotel in St. Louis and there met Fred Essen, who introduced them to Hoover. They remained at the hotel about 15 minutes, he said, after which he and Stuckman and Hoover went to the Wolfsberger farm, where the raid was made. On cross-examination he said Essen had been at the hotel except to give the formal introduction to Hoover.

Repeats Story of Trip.

Werremeyer repeated in detail the story of his trip to the farm and said that he had informed Hoover of the fact that he had taken the 20 gallons of whisky.

After the raid he went home and later met a reporter at the Olive street road, to whom Stuckman told what occurred. He said he had made no appointment with the reporter. He went to Mueller's office, he said.

At this point he was closely questioned by Attorney Gardner, who apparently was endeavoring to show some agreement to make trouble for Sheriff Willmann. Werremeyer de-

Beads and Black Keynote of Many Style Creations

Pheasant and Paradise Shade Also Catch Eye at Fashion Pageant, With "Angel Sleeves" and Spanish Shawl Patterns in Evidence.

By MARGUERITE MARTYN.

EADS AND more beads, not merely the jet and steel beads of seasons past, but beads in Oriental coloring, coral, jade, amber, ruby, through the entire jewel spectrum, adorning cloth gowns and suits as well as net and georgette evening gowns; "angel" sleeves, flaring at the wrist when of cloth material and floating voluminously from the shoulder, when of thin material; fur pockets large as muffs on the coats; skirts cut circular and flaring in the Spanish manner, and many other suggestions taken from the Spanish, such as Spanish combes used as hats, mantles, lace veils and long fringes on shawls; seers and capes, banded edging, rams' hat brims, hand painting done in luster and metallic paints on charmeuse and georgette gowns; many hats of cloth-of-gold-and-silver with lace veils, sometimes of the same metals; loads of embroidery in silk floss, chenille and braids on suits, coats and dresses; coat dresses, some made entirely of a flat fur, such as broadtail trimmed with monkey, others of cloth with fur collars and cuffs; broad hats with brims notched at surprising angles; small hats with tassels, plumes, fruits and other trimming drooping and curling down under the chin; nailheads supplementing beads in the geometric, Egyptian, Byzantine and other patterns in which the heading is done—these are a few observations noted down at the Style Show as the models paraded back and forth or snatched out of the confusion of the dressing room off stage.

Spanish Shawl Costume.

The Spanish shawl costume is of gray panne and black panne velvet, embroidered on the skirt with black chenille. The scarf is gray on one side, black on the other, and has long fringes of heavy black silk.

Next, a navy cloth with elaborate embroidery garniture of heraldic work, large flat jade beads edged round with scarlet nail-heads, being the keynote from which radiates the Oriental design. Strings of coral float from the hips as fringe. With this day-time frock was worn a turban of multicolored, uncured ostrich plumes.

And then there was Dimpie Reide, the star high-diver of the pageant. She is built as Hebe, Diana or some other of the Greek Goddesses in imagination should have been strange to say, though she did not attract much attention in some of the smartest fall models, when she wore this simple sheath of jet sequins, undefiled with ornament, the audience declared her stunning.

One of the many gowns of paradise color was the one illustrated next. It is built like a coat, and has an uneven edge to its flaring skirt.

Long pointed pockets in which the suits shown were of the lusterless velvet duvetine textures. Soft coats, as a rule, were almost as long as the skirt, that's not saying they really were long, of course, with the skirts as short as ever. An occasional box coat with loose panel at back was worn.

And now to particularize, some of the costumes which made a special appeal to one's pencil, in the order sketched, from left to right, are as follows:

Evening gown of crystal, jet and peacock colored beads wrought in bold design, hung over sapphire satin. Squares of flame and black tulle, picot edged, caught at the

Has $153 but Would Sleep in Alley.

Costa Celeste, 36 years old, giving his address as Madison, Ill., was arrested at 9 o'clock last night when returning from the vicinity of Second and Washington avenues, became alarmed when they saw him lie down in an alley in that neighborhood. He informed policemen that he intended to sleep there. When searched at police headquarters he had $153.67 and two watches. He said he had no faith in banks, and kept away from rooming houses and hotels for fear he would be robbed. He said he saved the money while working in a steel plant, and started yesterday to walk to Kansas City.

Between the showing of the pageant episodes models exhibited the fall and winter styles all the garments shown being made in St. Louis.

Many out-of-town buyers witnessed the pageant and show. Railroads are making special excursion rates from points within a radius of 150 miles because of the Style Show.

JOHN S. LEAHY SUED BY HEIRS OF THE LATE MRS. MAC ADARAS

Petition Seeks to Have Her Will and Codicil to Will of Attorney's Mother Construed.

Adele M. Doyle, Oscar M. Doyle, Benton A. Doyle, Marcel F. Doyle and Marie Doyle Daly, heirs of Mrs. Marcella D. MacAdaras, filed suit at Clayton today against John S. Leahy to have the will of Mrs. MacAdaras construed, a codicil to the will of Mrs. Jane Leahy, sister of Mrs. MacAdaras disposing of the trust estate of Mrs. MacAdaras declared invalid. The trust estate left by Mrs. MacAdaras determined and the real estate sold and the proceeds divided, and an accounting made of Leahy's administration of the personal estate, and its sale and the distribution of the proceeds.

Mrs. MacAdaras, according to the petition, left her estate in trust to Mrs. Leahy for 12 years, to be distributed at the end of that time to the heirs according to Mrs. Leahy's judgment, and to be disposed of by Mrs. Leahy's will if she died before the expiration of the trust. A codicil to Mrs. Leahy's will directed that six of the MacAdaras lots in St. Louis be sold and the proceeds divided among the Doyles, and left $100,000 to John S. Leahy, who was appointed administrator. The petition alleges that the codicil is void because it followed private instruction instead of the terms of Mrs. MacAdaras' will. It is alleged that the MacAdaras estate was administered by Leahy even during the life of his mother, and that he exercised an undue influence over her.

The MacAdaras estate was appraised at $212,000.

FOR STATE LINE TAX ON AUTOS

HELENA, Mont., Aug. 3.—A tax on every gallon of gasoline, every ton of coal and all automobiles coming into a state from other states was advocated by Louis L. Emerson, president of the National Association of State and Secretary of State of Illinois, at the opening session of the association's convention here yesterday.

Emerson stated that it was not a question of expenditure reduction in most states, but of revenue increases, and that the indirect method of taxation was the most successful.

Two Hurt in Car Crash.

An eastbound Tower Grove car split the switch at Ninth and Pine streets at 5:30 p.m. yesterday, colliding with a westbound Bellefontaine car. Miss Elizabeth Geisel of 3755A Wyoming street, and Mrs. Eugenia Poser of 4163 Connecticut street, passengers on the Tower Grove were injured. Miss Geisel's knee was injured and Mrs. Poser's ankle was sprained and she may have received internal injuries. They were treated at the city dispensary and taken home.

TEXAN SUES ST. LOUIS CONTRACTOR FOR $50,000

Thomas B. Love Says Sum Is Due for Services in Behalf of War Contracts.

A suit for $50,000 against J. W. Thompson, general contractor of St. Louis, was filed in the United States District Court today by Thomas B. Love, an attorney, of Dallas, Tex., who alleges this amount is due for services rendered during the war at Washington and elsewhere on behalf of Thompson's building operations.

This work was done, he said, in connection with the building of army cantonments, including portions of those at Fort Worth, Tex., and Deming, N. M., and of several aviation fields, including Hicks Field and Barron Field in Texas. Love claims that he spent much time in Washington taking care of Thompson's legal matters, that he went to heavy expense and received no compensation except a refund of $10,000 after securing such expenses. He represented Thompson before the U. S. Commissioners, he says.

W. J. Rutledge Jr. of Texas is attorney for Love. The suit was filed here by Edward J. White.

ROW OVER GRANITE CITY POLICE BOARD NOT SETTLED

The lie was passed several times between city officials and there was much shouting and excited argument in the chamber of the Granite City Council last night when a special committee of three Aldermen brought in a report which led to the reinstatement of the two Fire and Police Commissioners.

Emerson had been suspended under charges by Mayor R. E. Robertson since he took office on May 1. After the meeting the Mayor again dismissed the commissioners. He has 10 days in which to file written charges.

Feeling against the Mayor's actions was apparently high and the sympathy of the crowd of citizens in the council room was evidently on the other side. The last charge against Commissioners Charles Fowler and George E. Whitten was that they did not hold examinations for applicants for the police force. They replied that no policemen were needed. The committee report did not find them guilty or innocent, but declared they held no examinations.

A motion to reinstate them brought on the excitement, after the report was accepted.

Alderman Frank Rutledge charged that the Mayor wanted the commissionerships to pay political debts, to which the Mayor passed the lie. Frank Howe, president of the Granite City Commercial Club, made a speech bitterly criticising the Mayor. The motion finally carried, 11 to 2, one Alderman being absent. Later, Mayor Robertson announced the removal of the commissioners for the third time. The Mayor's salary is $175 a month and the commissioners are not paid.

COLLEGE 'BOOSTERS' FILL TOWN

The crowd which gathered yesterday at Lebanon, Ill., from all over Southern Illinois, to boost McKendree College was so great that after the accommodations of the college dormitories and classrooms had been exhausted, numbers were sheltered in the homes of the town.

The "booster day" was the first step in a campaign for an endowment of $1,500,000 for the college. All the appointments in the Southern Illinois Conference of the Methodist Church were represented by ministers and laymen. Addresses were delivered by President McCammon, Bishop Quayle, former Gov. Denen and Dr. John Harker, president of the Illinois Women's College at Jacksonville. After the campaign had officially opened by the booster meeting it was officially authorized by the Board of Trustees. It will be conducted by the Board of Education of the Methodist Church and will close Nov. 30.

Yeast Vitanon Greatest Complexion Secret Of All

Banishes Skin Eruptions, Puts on Firm Flesh, Strengthens the Nerves and Increases Energy.

Concentrated Tablets Easy and Economical to Take—Results Quick.

If you want to quickly clear your skin and complexion, put some fresh healthy flesh on your bones, increase your nerve force and power and look and feel 100 per cent better, simply take a few tiny VITAMON tablets with each meal and watch results. VITAMON contains highly concentrated yeast-vitamin. It is equal to the two other still more important vitamins—Fat Soluble A and Water Soluble C, and is now being used by thousands. VITAMON will not upset the stomach or cause gas, but on the contrary is a great aid to digestion. To overcome constipation, take as many tablets as are required for conditions of the whole system. Pimples, boils and skin eruptions seem to vanish like magic under its purifying influence. The skin becomes fresh and beautiful, the cheeks rosy instead of pale, the lips red instead of colorless, the eyes bright instead of dull. So rapid and amazing are the results that success is absolutely guaranteed or the trial costs nothing. Be sure to remember—VITAMON—there is nothing else like it. Get it at all good drugstores, such as Eustis six stores, Johnson Bros., Judge & Delph, E. A. Medier, A. Pauley's, Wolf, Wilson and Hugger's two stores.

DRIVER FOR WORKERS OF BOILER PLANT SHOT

Chaffeur of Truck Under Police Convoy Wounded — Two Other Attacks Reported.

Edward Stone, 29 years old, of 2520 South Eighteenth street, a truck driver for the Rohan Boiler Works, at the end of Marceau street, was shot in the left forearm at 5 p.m. yesterday, near Marceau and Riley streets, while driving 42 men employees from the plant. Although the truck was protected by a convoy of policemen, no one heard the shot, nor has it been determined where it came from. At the Marine's Infirmary five small birdshots were found in Stone's arm. The wound was not serious. Several of the small shot also went through the shirt of a man riding on the truck but made no wound.

There has been a strike of boilermakers at the plant for more than a year, and several fights and disturbances have resulted. The men who were on the truck have taken the strikers' places. They had formerly been conveyed to and from the plant on a barge towed from Vine street by a tug, but shots fired at them from both sides of the river last Monday caused the abandonment of this mode of transportation.

Earl Sykes, 21 years old, of 2747 Olive street, a press feeder employed at the Hoyer Printing Co., Lemp avenue and Arsenal street, was assaulted at noon yesterday at Lemp and Crittenden streets by a man who beat him with his fists and escaped. There is a strike of printers and pressmen at the plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Gutherz, of 5255 Greer avenue, were knocked down yesterday afternoon at Goodfellow avenue and Terminal Railroad tracks by a man they identified as a striking foreman, formerly employed by the city on the Hanley Creek sewer project in southwest St. Louis. The man was not employed as foreman then. George Marshall, 50 years old, of 5862 Elmbank avenue, a striking foreman, was arrested and identified by Mr. and Mrs. Gutherz as their assailant.

PICNIC AT SALVATION ARMY CAMP

500 Mothers and Children to Be Given Outing Friday.

The Jefferson Barracks band will play at the picnic to be given Friday at the Salvation Army fresh air camp near Ferguson, to 500 mothers and children of the congested districts. The mothers and children will be taken to the camp in automobiles supplied by St. Louisans. They will gather at Seventh and Market streets at 8:30 a.m. and will be returned to the city before dark.

The picnic will mark the formal opening of the camp, the site for which was recently purchased by the Salvation Army. There will be 30 cottages, a large swimming pool and other improvements at the camp. About 100 of the mothers and children taken to the camp Friday will remain there for a week. The camp will be open for about five days, about 100 mothers and children being cared for there each seven days. A flag raising at which Col. John H. Parker, commanding at Jefferson Barracks, will officiate, will mark the opening of the camp.

Woman Found Unconscious From Gas.

Mrs. Corrine Wade, 50 years old, of 1709 Oregon avenue, a widow, was found unconscious in her home seated in a chair beside a kitchen gas range, with all the burners turned on but not lighted, at 6:20 p.m. yesterday when her brother, Thomas E. Crawford, with whom she lives, arrived home from work. She was taken to the city hospital where doctors said her condition was serious. The brother told the police his sister had suffered a nervous breakdown a year ago.

Fourth FloorLEGION MEN SAIL
TODAY FOR FRANCEParty of More Than 250 Headed by National Commander, to Visit Battlefields.

By the Associated Press.

NE YORK, Aug. 3.—With the flag of the national commander of the American Legion flying at her quarters, and more than 250 members of that organization on board, the American passenger steamship George Washington sails today for Cherbourg and Bremen.The legionaries will disembark at the first port, whence they will go to visit the battlefields. To many of them it will be the first visit to the scene of conflict since they left for home, uniformed members of various units of a victorious army.The legion party is headed by National Commander John G. Emery, and includes men from every state of the Union.Cabled advices from Cherbourg have said that the veterans would be officially received there by representatives of the French Government. A special detail of American soldiers from the forces now in Germany will be on hand to welcome their former comrades.President Millerand and Premier Brind will receive the tourists in Paris and Marshal Foch will join them in Flirey, where a monument erected by citizens of liberated Lorraine will be unveiled as a token of friendship.The official itinerary of the legion includes visits to Biols, Verdun, Rheims, Chateau-Thierry, Toulouse, Lyons, Strasbourg, Metz and Bordeaux."We are making this pilgrimage," said National Commander Emery,
"as proof that the war alliance of America and France was based on righteous concepts. More than two years have passed since we fought side by side. Many friendships have been broken in that time, many arrangements and associations re-disputed. But the friendship of America and France persists. It endures because it rests on something more binding than the formal agreements of statesmen. It is based on a common understanding and a oneness of aspiration that lives deep in the hearts of the two great democracies'
principles."SCENERY PLANT IS DAMAGED

2 WOMEN GUESTS HAD FINERY TAKEN AT PARTY

Clothing and Jewelry Valued at $200 Disappeared When Son Entertained.

Clothing and jewelry valued at more than $200 stolen from the home of Garner E. Palfrey, 765 Vandervoort Avenue. Vandervoort, during a party given by Mr. and Mrs. Palfrey's son, Cleve, 17 years old, during their absence on a week-end automobile trip, on July 31, have been recovered from two of the six young women who attended the party with six young men.

St. Louis detectives yesterday arrested Miss Josephine D. Bertels, 22, of 4225 McPherson avenue, and Mrs. Margaret Todd, 21, of 3406 Greenwood avenue, Maplewood.

Miss Bertels was wearing an undergarment valued at $15 which belonged to Mrs. Palfrey. A fur neck piece valued at $75 was found in the home of a young woman who resides at 3477A Olive street. Miss Bertels also had in her possession, the police state, a bar pin valued at $50, a pair of silk hose valued at $12.50 and a three-piece vanity set valued at $25, all of which Mrs. Palfrey had identified as her property.

Miss Bertels told the police that liquor was served at the party and that she had not realized that she had taken the clothing and jewelry until the next day. Young Palfrey is said to have told the police that he obtained liquor for the party from a chauffeur.

At Mrs. Todd's home, the police said they found a pair of satin pumps valued at $15, a leather vanity bag valued at $15, a beaded dress valued at $75 and a pair of slippers valued at $15.

RAILROAD WATCHMEN INDICTED ON FOUR ROBBERY CHARGES

One of Two Employees of the Wabash Also Accused of Assault With Intent to Kill.

William B. Mitchell, 23 years old, of 1429 Leroy street, Ferguson, and Edgar L. Whelan, 30, of 3584 Washington boulevard, licensed private watchmen for the Wabash Railroad under suspension, were named in four joint indictments for first degree robbery returned by the grand jury yesterday and Whelan also was indicted on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

Two of the joint indictments charge the men with robbing Mike Grochowski of $20 and Paul Lenik of $11.50 on July 21 in the course of their rounds of the Wabash near Luther station. The assault indictment charges Whelan with shooting Joe Janusch, 18, a companion of Grochowski and Lenik when it was found Janusch had no money.

The three youths live in Chicago and were beating their way to Kansas City. They reported to the police that they were put on a freight train and told to remain until they reached Moberly but, Janusch's wound compelled them to get off at Ferguson.

The other two joint indictments for robbery charge Mitchell and Whelan with taking $3 from Wood Williams of 2800A North Sarah street and $7 from Roy Davis of the same address on June 25 in the vicinity of Luther station.

CARNIVAL ON CIRCUS GROUNDS

Various Concessions Compose "Exposition" at Laclede and Vandeventer.

A combination of circus and carnival attractions under the label "Exposition" is occupying the circus grounds at Laclede and Vandeventer this week, with performances afternoon and evening. The shows bear the name of Johnny J. Jones.

There are 20 attractions to which separate admissions are charged, chiefly of the side show type. However, there is an animal show with male and female lion and leopard acts, in which a precociously smart elephant moves through his paces less cumbersome than most performers of his species. There also is a wild west show in which a cowboy lassoes three horses being ridden and in which the rider remains to make go through military evolutions and perform other "tricks" with a minimum of stubbornness. There also are a string of concessions and riding devices. A panorama of trench warfare is another feature.

Bull Gores Farmer to Death.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., Aug. 2.—Frank White, a farmer living a mile south of Excelsior Springs, Mo., was gored to death yesterday by a bull in his pasture on the White farm. White, who lived with a sister on the farm, left his house about 8 o'clock yesterday morning, and went to the pasture. When he failed to return, his sister looked for him and found his body in the pasture.

Postal Clerk III From Heat.

August Fette, 48 years old, of 2715 Arlington avenue, a clerk at the main postoffice, was taken to the city hospital from his work yesterday afternoon suffering from heat exhaustion. His condition is serious. Fette said he had worked all day in the sun around his home on Monday and assigned his collapse to that.

Revenue Bureau Inquiry Ordered.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—As a result of charges by Gov. Abel of Kansas, a complete investigation of the affairs of the Internal Revenue Bureau has been ordered by Commissioner Lair in a search for alleged tax leaks.

The only real difference between a man's winter and his summer suit—is in the weight of the material used.

There should be no difference in smartness of appearance; and there isn't if the summer suit is custom tailored. Really, the lighter the material the greater is the need for tailoring skill.

Men who want to be smartly dressed the whole year around have Losse custom tailor their Palm Beach, mohair and tropical worsted suits.

WARRANTS OUT FOR 15 ALLEGED MAIL ROBBERS

Men Said to Have Been Aids of J. W. Worthington, Arrested Monday, Sought.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Fifteen warrants for the arrest of men said to have been associated with John W. Worthington in connection with mail robberies totaling more than $6,000,000 were issued yesterday by James R. Glass, United States Commissioner.

News of the arrest in New York of Arthur M. Goldsmith, said to be a lieutenant of Worthington, pleased Federal officials who have been conducting the investigation that led to the apprehension of Worthington Monday after he had been indicted on numerous counts by the Federal grand jury.

"Goldsmith in New York was what Worthington was in Chicago," said John V. Cinnin, Assistant District Attorney. "One is as important as the other, and it is a long time since the Government has made arrests as important as these two."

Reports were received also in Detroit of "Lefty" Lewis, said to be another of Worthington's aids.

Securities corresponding to some lost in recent mail robberies and bonds believed to be some of those which disappeared from the Sinclair Oil Co.'s office in New York, were found yesterday in Worthington's office according to postal inspectors.

Worthington, Held in Mail Robbery Case, Once Lived in St. Louis.

John W. Worthington, under arrest in Chicago as head of the Central Securities Co., believed by Federal authorities to be a clearing house for millions of dollars' worth of bonds stolen in mail robberies, lived in St. Louis 15 years ago, when he operated a grocery store at Spring avenue and Olive street, Chief of Detectives Houghland said today.

Chief Hoagland said that Worthington, who is about 55 years old now, lived here with his wife. They later separated.

Chief Hoagland today recalled that when he was a detective in 1916 he was detailed with Government operatives to look for Worthington in connection with the theft of $14,000 in bonds and jewelry from a safe in the Pittsburgh office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. He was not found here, but Hoagland said that word was received later that Government officers had intercepted him near the Canadian border. According to the Bertillon records at police headquarters, Worthington served a six-year term at Sing Sing for embezzlement prior to 1888.

DEMAND FOR CARUSO RECORDS
HEAVY SINCE HIS DEATH

Music Stores Report Rush Begun
Soon After News Became Known.

In the 24 hours since Enrico Caruso's death became known here, music lovers have visited local shops in large numbers to purchase phonograph records made by the world-famous tenor. In one of the smaller shops it was said today that within a short time after Caruso's death became known there were six persons in the place at the same time, demanding his records. In the music department of one department store it was said that close to 30 Caruso records were sold yesterday. In one store on Olive street a single customer purchased 22 of Caruso's records. A number indicated they were making the first purchase of Caruso records in greatest demand are: "Celeste Aida," from "Aida"; Rudolfo's "Narrative from La Boheme"; "Vesti la Guiba," from "Pagliacci"; "I Hear As in a Dream," from "Pecheurs de Perles"; "Woman Is Fickle," from "Rigoletto"; his duet with Scotti from "La Forza del Destino," and his own ballad, sung in English, "Dreams of Long Ago."

20-YEAR SENTENCE FOR ROBBER WHO ATTACKED DR. JACOBSON

Former Convict Pleads Guilty—
Three Charged Growing Out of Same Case Still Pending.

Henry Lang, alias Herman Press, a former convict, was sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary by Circuit Judge Hogan this morning after pleading guilty to a charge of assault with intent to rob, growing out of an attempt to rob Dr. Jacobson of 5689 Bartier avenue, in his office, at 1823 Cass avenue, March 28. Dr. Jacobson was shot in the struggle, following the holdup. Charges of assault to kill, carrying concealed weapons and of being a habitual criminal are still pending.

Roy Burton, who was jointly indicted with Press for the shooting and attempted robbery of Dr. Jacobson, will be tried next week.

Reception for Veterans.

An entertainment, reception and dance will be given tomorrow evening by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in honor of all disabled veterans of the war, including members of the St. Louis Chapter of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War; other men who are taking vocational training in the city, and men at Jefferson Barracks Hospital, and the United States Public Health Hospital. No formal invitation has been extended, but all disabled men are asked to come. The entertainment will be held at the Junior Chamber of Commerce club house, Newstead and Maryland avenues.

4 SUSPENSIONS FOLLOW VISIT TO AMBULANCE DRIVERS' CLUB

Chaffeurs Laid Off When Detectives Find Property Said to Belong to City.

Four city ambulance chauffeurs were suspended today following a visit by Chief Dispensary Physician Rohlfing and city detectives to the Chaffeurs' Club on the Meramec River, near the Lemay Ferry road, and the finding of equipment alleged to be city property. The detectives seized three blankets, two towels, three canvas cots, two mats and cotton and gauze valued at $12.

The men under suspension said they bought the articles and did not know they were city property.

other men, not city employees, made up the membership of the club.

The blankets, cotton and gauze were said to be City Dispensary property and the election booths and tables to be the property of the Board of Election Commissioners. Articles of this kind are stored in the old City Hall, Eleventh and Market streets.

One of the election booths was being used at the club as a cot. The men under suspension said they bought the articles and did not know they were city property.

AIRPLANE POSTAL SERVICE IS INTRODUCED IN CHINA

First Flight Made From Pekin to Tsinan—Chinese Students in Training as Pilots.
By the Associated Press.

PEKIN, July 2 (Delayed).—A successful airplane flight from Pekin to Tsinan in Shantung Province and return with mails and passengers marked the inauguration yesterday of a regular tri-weekly postal service between these points. It is planned to extend the flights by Aug. 1 to Shanghai, with stops at Tsinan, Suchau and Nanking, and to carry passengers as well as mails.

The initial flight on July 1 to Tsinan, 237 miles, was accomplished against a head-wind in two hours and 55 minutes. The return, with wind diagonally across the course from behind, was done in two hours and 30 minutes. The plane was an English commercial type, capable of carrying 12 passengers and one pilot. An invitation by the Aeronautical Department of the Government, representatives of the Associated Press, Reuters and Kokusai and two Chinese newspaper men made the flight. Other passengers were Col. M. V. Holt, technical adviser to the Aeronautical Department, and L. C. Arlington, Chinese secretary to the Postal Commissioner.

A corps of Chinese students are in training and it is anticipated that they eventually will take over the business of piloting the big machines. For some time to come, however, this will be done by foreign experts.

NEGOTIATIONS ON RUSSIAN DEBT TO FRANCE BEGUN

Bolsheviks Had Previously Refused to Acknowledge Indebtedness of Czarist Regime.
By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 3.—Negotiations relative to the recognition of the Russian debt to France were commenced last night by Louis Loucheur, French Minister of Liberated Regions, and Leonid Krassin, Russian soviet Minister of Trade and Commerce, says the Paris edition of the New York Herald. The newspaper declares it has received its information from most reliable sources.

Before the collapse of the Czarist regime in Russia, that Government had contracted a debt to France approximately $5,000,000,000. When the soviet administration of Russia was established, the bolsheviks refused to acknowledge this debt and to this fact has been attributed the refusal of France to enter into any negotiations with representatives of the bolsheviks or to arrange a trade agreement such as was recently entered into between Great Britain and soviet Russia.

Season for Dove Shooting Still Closed

Shooting of doves in Missouri will continue to cost $25 for the first one and $5 for each additional one. State Game and Fish Commissioner Birmingham calls attention to the fact that the closed season, which has continued three years, is still in effect. A bill declaring an open season passed the Senate at the last Legislature, but it did not pass the House. Some hunters seem to think, he says, that the closed season has ended.

Before the collapse of the Czarist regime in Russia, that Government

"They said it couldn't be done, but he didn't know it; so he went ahead and did it." In other words he had faith that it could be done.

Faith in the future of American Business; faith that it will improve over its own successful past; faith in your business; faith in his business—you not only expect it—you demand it—from your banker.

Faith, last in this series on banking services requirements, is not last in fact, because it is part of every other requirement.

In our every effort to serve, Faith plays its most necessary part. "Mercantile Service" doesn't know it can't be done."

MAIL CARRIER CATCHES MONKEY

Beleville Man Lands Strayed Animal With Dip Net.

Carl Lindow, rural mail carrier of Beleville, yesterday had a monkey chase which lasted for two hours, during which time neighbors to the number of several dozen joined. Lindow found a monkey in his yard and started after the animal. The monkey ran from tree to tree and yard to yard, and Lindow finally managed to capture it by means of a large dip net.

The animal got away from a carnival company which appeared in Beleville last week and has been returned to the owner.

WORKMAN IS DRAWN INTO BURNING FAN AND KILLEDBody Found in Terminal Section House When Man Arrives to Relieve Him.

The body of Charles Angel, 63 years old, of 7127 High street, Richmond Heights, was found at 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning when he started fan in a section house of the Terminal Railroad at 713 St. Charles street. The fan is run to draw gases and smoke from the railroad tunnel connecting Eads Bridge with the Mill creek yards, and Angel was employed to watch it.

Apparently sparks drawn from the tunnel had ignited grease about the fan. Angel with a hose had mounted a ledge constructed to permit workmen to reach the fan when it was in need of repair. He had become tangled in a shaft on which the fan revolves and he was drawn into the fan. His body, badly mangled, was thrown from the fan back on to the ledge. A man, coming to relieve Angel, found his body. The fire still was smoldering.

ARMY CAPTAIN SHOT
NEAR CAMP GRANTPrison Farm Commander Wounded Near Spot Where Woman Was Killed.By the Associated Press.
ROCKFORD, Ill., Aug. 3.—Capt. Robert Ferris, commandant of the Camp Grant prison farm, was shot from ambush about four miles south of camp on the Eleventh Street road about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He is at the base hospital in the camp with a 32-caliber bullet embedded in his shoulder. In the last two years, repeated reports of mysterious shots being fired at passing autoists have been brought in. Mrs. Maude Lucille Moss, wife of Capt. Leroy Moss, was shot and killed 20 rods north of the place where Ferris was hit yesterday. The Moss shooting took place over a year ago. It has never been solved.

No less than 10 complaints of shots passing near there have been filed by autoists here in the last year.

A posse of Deputy Sheriffs at once surrounded the woods there. Sanford Pihl, a farmer living in the woods nearby, was arrested. Shortly after the arrest, searchers found a 32-caliber revolver, with two bullets exploded, near the point from which the shot came. Tracks leading toward Pihl's house were also discovered, according to the authorities.

Pihl admitted having heard the shot on each occasion, but said he has never seen the gunman.

Capt. Ferris was seeking an escaped prisoner from the stockade at Camp Grant, when shot.

CONFESSES SETTING FIRE TO GARAGE TO ‘SQUARE ACCOUNTS’Prisoner Says Owner of Property Destroyed July 13 Had Caused Him to Lose a Widow’s Affections.
Edward Beeler, 39 years old, of 2506 South Twelfth street, an iron moulder, confessed to Police Capt. Kirk today that he set fire to a garage three weeks ago, causing $3000 damage to the building and four automobiles to “square accounts” with a man whom he blamed for causing him to lose the affections of a widow.

Shortly after midnight of July 13 last the garage of Harry A. Heisel, 4600 Tennessee avenue, a tinner, was destroyed by fire with three automobiles and a truck. The following afternoon someone called up Mrs. Heisel and said, “This is Beeler,” according to Mrs. Heisel, “Tell Harry I’m even.”

Beeler was arrested last night, and confessed firing the garage.

He said, according to the police confession, that he was courting a widow four years ago and that Heisel told her something that caused her to cast him aside. He stated further that a year ago he was arrested on a forged check charge and that Heisel was a witness against him, and that a short time ago, before the fire, he was assaulted by two men.

The confession sets forth that he broke into the garage, set fire to greasy rags, watched the fire from a distance, and then called up Mrs. Heisel. He is charged with arson.

WAR CORRESPONDENT HOME WITH

Who Helped Him Answer Questions of Natives in Luxembourg.

By the Associated Press.

ATCHISON, Kan., Aug. 3.—James P. Howe, who served four years in Europe during and after the war as correspondent for the Associated Press, came her to-day with his bride, a young woman of Austro-Hungarian father, E. W. Howe, editor and author.

Howe saw service on many of the battlefields and passed the American armies into Germany. He was the first American to enter Luxembourg. He stopped his motor car at a street corner and was immediately surrounded by persons clamoring for news from the outside.

“Is there anyone here who speaks English?” Howe asked.

“I do,” said a young woman, and the young woman later became his wife. The couple, Howe said, encountered many difficulties in their courtship, because relatives objected to him as a foreigner. They made a trip to Berlin to be married, but found the Government regulations forbade it, so they eloped to Warsaw, where the ceremony was performed.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Earl Cathcart, an elderly bachelor who married a young war widow in 1919, advertised in the Times yesterday morning that he will no longer be responsible for her debts. She promises to answer his advertisement.

The Countess had two children by her first husband, Capt. De Gray Warden of the Fourth Dragoon Guards, and one son by her present husband. There is no allegation against her except that of extravagance and she and the Earl are still living in the same house.

HELGOLAND SEEKS INDEPENDENCEMemorial Charges Germans Failed to Learn Lesson From Alsace.By the Associated Press.
HELGOLAND, Aug. 3.—A commission of 62 members working for the independence of Helgoland yesterday issued a memorial in which it was charged that the “bureaucratic German-Prussian regime failed to learn the lesson which the malad-ministration of Alsace, Schleswig, Silesia and Posen should have taught.”

The memorial asserted that its signers are tired of sending delegations to Berlin “to sit with some minister in an audience room catching files while Prussian officials refuse to listen, or having heard, fail to understand Helgoland’s case.” The further misunderstanding and mis-treatment at the hands of a regis-memorial concludes that the island’s future demands an independent administration to see that there is no principles of Government.”*The Standard of the WorldNot a Penny of Premium in the Price of World’s Greatest Motor Car Value

The man who buys the Cadillac becomes the owner of the most distinguished achievement recorded in its field—but he acquires that distinction without paying a penny’s worth of premium.

This is so because, in the matter of price, the Cadillac actually reverses a world-wide practice.

There is an unwritten business law that when a manufactured article is conceded to be without equal among its kind, the buyer gladly gives more for the greater value which its excellence assures him.

In the case of the Cadillac, this admission of greater value is freely and frankly given.

And yet—contrary to world-wide custom—the Cadillac is lower in price than the cars which eagerly seek comparison with it.

More-over it outsells all of them combined by a volume which is something like one-third greater.

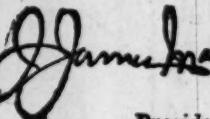

This latter fact explains why the Cadillac is not only the world’s greatest value in point of all that constitutes superb performance, but the world’s greatest value in price as well.

It is the only car of its high character which has been able to apply to a large production that fineness of manufacture which is really its special excellence and value.

And by reason of that large volume, the Cadillac is spared the necessity of asking a higher price for manifestly higher excellence.

C A D I L L A*“Without the treacherous help of cathartics”A simple food which gradually replaces laxativesHE who can control chronic constipation without the treacherous help of cathartics makes a ‘booster’ of his patient.”

This quotation from a doctor’s essay on constipation carries a message of great significance to thousands of men and women.

It is now recognized that cathartics never remove the causes of constipation. Indeed, one physician states that the indiscriminate use of cathartics is probably one of the most frequent causes of constipation.

For many years there has been pressing need for some simple food that would help restore normal conditions. And now scientists have discovered it in the familiar little cake of Fleischmann’s Yeast.

First came the startling discovery that Fleischmann’s Yeast in itself is a wonderful food, rich in the mysterious water-soluble vitamin E. Then it was found that Fleischmann’s Yeast builds up the body tissues, keeps the body resistant to disease.

Eat 1 to 3 cakes of Fleischmann’s Yeast a day. Have it on the table at home and on your desk at the office. Eat it plain, spread on bread, dissolved in milk or fruit juices. Yeast has the fresh, distinctive flavor of the clean, wholesome taste it leaves in your mouth. It assimilates just like any other food. Only one precaution: if troubled with gas, dissolve yeast first in boiling water. This does not affect the efficacy of the yeast. Place a standing order with your grocer for Fleischmann’s Yeast and get it fresh daily.

Send 4 cents in stamps for the interesting booklet, “The New Importance of Yeast in Diet.” Address THE FLEISCHMANN COMPANY, 701 Washington St., New York, N. Y.

A food—not a laxativeA noted specialist in his latest book says of fresh compressed yeast: “It should be much more frequently given in illness in which there is intestinal disturbance, especially if it is associated with constipation.”In cases of constipation remember that Fleischmann’s Yeast is a corrective food, not a laxative. It should be taken over a period of time from two weeks to a month in order to restore normal habits. Do not discontinue the customary cathartics abruptly. Reduce it gradually.To help the body eliminate waste and restore normal conditions eat 1 to 3 cakes of Fleischmann’s Yeast a day.

HOOVER SHOWS WHY RUSSIA IS SHORT OF FOOD

Decrease of Industry in General of Over 90 Per Cent of the Country's Vast Output Before War.

GENERAL DECADENCE OF AGRICULTURE

Decrease of Motive Power of From 60 to 75 Per Cent and Railroad Road Beds Are in Bad Condition.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—General decadence of agriculture, decay of transportation, and a decrease of industry in general of over 90 per cent of the pre-war output, are held responsible by Secretary Hoover for the food shortages in Russia.

In a formal statement last night, describing the economic condition in that country, Hoover painted a picture of virtual collapse of the productive activities of the farmers and urban population under the soviet government.

The most acute famine area, he said, covers the Volga Valley from the Caspian Sea northward. The drought there, he added, would not be so fatal were it not for the reduction in the surplus crops in other regions and the difficulties due to transportation of moving such surpluses as do exist. Hoover cited reports showing the reduction of acreage under cultivation varying from nearly 100 per cent reduction in the province of Kazan to 58 per cent in Samara of the acreage culminated last spring.

Steady Production Decline

"Over-riding such local situations there has been a steady decline in agricultural production," Hoover said, "ever since the revolution, owing to the lack of incentive to farmers to produce more than their own needs, and to the shortage of seed and the shortage of implements."

"The urban population has produced little goods to offer in exchange, though the currency depreciation through the increase of currency issues to over 1,000,000,000 rubles has rendered their accumulation no attraction."

"From these causes Russia, before even last year's harvest, had declined from a state producing from six to ten million tons of food for export to a condition where there was such an insufficient supply for the cities that the urban population has been reduced by about one-half."

Diminished Grain Crop

As indicating the diminished grain crop in 1921, Hoover cited the quantities estimated to be requisitioned for taxes by the soviet Government, showing for all soviet Russia, except the Ukraine and Turkestan, 4,320,000 tons of grain as against 7,614,000 requisitioned in 1920, while the potatoes estimated for requisition totaled 1,080,000 tons as compared with 2,016,000 last year and 216,000 tons of oil seeds against 432,000 in 1920.

"The decadence in fat production," he continued, "is even more general and more acute than breadstuff, owing to the requisition of animal feed to breadstuffs. Consequently children are suffering more keenly in many sections than adults."

Discussing the railroad situation, Hoover showed a decrease of motive power of from 60 to 75 per cent resulting from a reduction from 18,104 locomotives before the war to 6,500 to 7,650 now in working order, while the serviceable cars decreased by from 48 to 70 per cent of the pre-war number. Roadbeds, he declared, were reported in very bad condition.

Fuel Situation "Very Serious."

The fuel situation, Hoover described as "very serious," with cessation of production of coal by 80 per cent and the deterioration of the mines forcing the railroads to depend much more on wood.

Tabulating the percentages of industrial production during 1920 as compared with the pre-war output, he showed the largest outputs, of 20 per cent, were in coal production and the paper industry.

Some stimulation to imports, he asserted, has been given by shipment of the former bank reserves of gold but the total imports from April 1 to May 15, were less than four per cent of the pre-war average for the same period, while imports for April were one-twentieth of one per cent of the same pre-war period.

"Recent reports as to instructions given to foreign agents of the Russian Government," Hoover concluded, "indicate the practical exhaustion of gold and consequent reduction of foreign purchases."

Appreciation of Caruso by Late James Huneker Premier Music Critic

Written When Singer Was Believed to Be Near Death Last Spring by Writer Who Since Has Died.

*T*he appreciation of Enrico Caruso was written by the Gibbons Huneker, music critic of the New York World, in March, when the famous tenor was so near death that it was believed he could live but a few hours. The article was to be released for publication upon Caruso's death. Strangely enough, Caruso immediately began to improve while Huneker was stricken with an illness that caused his death a few days later. Huneker, who was both a novelist of great power, as well as the premier music critic of the United States, had a great admiration for the world's premier tenor.

By JAMES GIBBONS HUNEKER. It is a curious commentary on Théophile Gautier's famous poetic dictum, that empires perish but art endures; that many of the great names contemporary with Caruso's will surely be forgotten, but the memory of his achievements not. Mankind always recalls with satisfaction the artists who have given pleasure to the senses. Kings are embalmed in deathless verse or live on the canvases of poet and painter. Yet today are the monarchs who patronized Shakespeare, or Velasquez, or Molire? Their very title would be forgotten were it not for art.

But actor and singer have not the luck of creative artists; they do but interpret, therefore, with their disappearance from the painted scene;

the majority there is caught but oblivion. The happy few who seem as of yesterday are, in the musical world, Patti, Rubinstein, Liszt, Rubin, Chopin—as pianist—Paganini, Malibran and Lilli Lehmann. Great exemplars. To this first list is now added Caruso. And he has one tremendous advantage over his celebrated predecessors—his voice is a living reality, after a fashion. That voice has given profound satisfaction in hundreds of thousands of homes scattered over the world, that voice cheered the home in the trenches during the World War. After all, it is a sort of immortality, this record, about as vital as we may hope for in a universe of changeless

Others who may presume to be in Mr. Wilson's confidence may add emphatically that there was ever a real breach between him and Mr. House, and point to the circumstances that there has never been an accepted reason adduced for the assumed quarrel. They say Mr. House did not call on the former President because he had no business and wished to spare Mr. Wilson during his illness.

The social man in him was irreducible. Generous, overflowing with the joy of life, his sense of humor found one outlet in his caricatures; his pencil was clever as well as witty—and in the company of his friends. He was a good friend. No need here to speak of his ready response to those in trouble. He was exploited, of course, yet his belief in humanity was never shaken. An Italian patriot, he was also a lover of his adopted land. He was always a boy. He never grew up. The stern boy in him, mismatched with his military, endeared him to everyone.

He fairly bubbled with kindly humor, and not the least among his many admirable traits was his conscientious attitude toward his audiences. Not to disappoint an expectant audience cost him much personal suffering. He has sung when he should have been in bed with doctors and nurses. In Brooklyn he persisted in singing until a ruptured blood vessel filled his throat with blood. The same desire, and not a craving for fame or money, impelled him to making and fatiguing trips in order that the audiences might enjoy his matchless voice. Like the majority of his countrymen he was frugal in his habits, eating little and drinking less. He abused the use of tobacco, and because of his nervousness cigarettes were a sedative. However, they did not fatally hurt his throat, as has been asserted. And considering his exalted position and his innumerable temptations, Caruso was hardly a rake. Scandal clustered about his name. Cruel persecution pursued him, but at the close of his life he was happily married and the father of a passionately loved daughter. A democratic man, he at no time bore himself with the arrogant air of a traditional tenor. Pavarotti, his associates, especially beloved by the chorus, he was accessible to all and sundry. Truly a refreshing contrast to the proverbially signer with a high C in his chest.

Born of humble parentage, Caruso suffered a severe apprenticeship to his art. In New York he has seen people who remember him singing in the streets, around various cafes in company with a drummer on the guitar. Pasquale Amato, a fellow townsmen as well as colleague at the Metropolitan Opera House, has told me of the far away days when Enrico sang in two parts every Sunday at the Teatro Mercadante at Naples, and of the summers at Salerno, when, during the entr'acte, he would drop a string from his dressing room window and draw up a fond prize—sardine and cream cheese sandwich. He was thin then and his appetite was that of a drowning man. The social man knew that the only way to be sure of him for the two Sunday performances was to lock him in the theater till the last curtain had been rung down. He confessed to me that once as a boy his mother had chastised him, not gently, because he let the household bread bake till it burned. But enough. Books might be crowded with interesting stories of the great man. A good comrade, a loving husband, father, the giant tenor of his generation, Enrico Caruso, is dead. But to his admirers he remains the dearest memory in the strike of sugar plantation workers last year.

U. S. Diplomat Quoted as Saying "Big Sister" Would Not Forget Peru in Troubles With Chile.

By the Associated Press.

SANTIAGO, Aug. 3.—The Chilean Foreign Ministry yesterday received cable advice from the Chilean Ambassador at Washington saying that the report of the address of Albert Douglas, head of the United States delegation to the Peruvian centennial celebration, last week in Lima, had caused a great impression in the American capital and that immediate measures had been taken by the American State Department to investigate the real facts.

In the address referred to, Douglas was quoted as saying that Peru would not be forgotten by her "big sister" in its differences with Chile.

The Chilean Foreign Ministry is preparing a statement regarding the incident.

WILSON AND HOUSE REPORTED TO HAVE SETLED QUARREL

Former President and His One-Time Adviser Said to Be Exchanging Letters After Mysterious Break.

NEITHER WILL TALK OF DISPUTE

Rumors Attributed Breach to Fiume Controversy, Shantung Issue and to Palmer's Appointment.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—A report that former President Wilson and E. M. House have "made up" their mysterious break and are exchanging friendly letters has been in circulation around Washington for several days. Kingman Brewster, former President of Yale, and Senator

Talleyrand and Hardenberg and Casterreagh, may have had bad principles and employed despotic methods and miscreants the interests of their peoples, but they at least knew what they were doing, and gave effect to their principles. Their work bestowed upon Europe a tolerable peace which lasted for more than 30 years. But there is no one of the treaties of 1919-1920 which is not in itself admitted to be unjust, and some are seen to lead straight to future wars.

"One hears people say 'the sort of peace that these negotiators have given us is as bad as was the war.'

The negotiators at Paris differed in their principles and ideals, and some

at least of them do not seem to have believed in the principles they professed.

An Unprecedented Task.

"European critics have suggested that some of them may have thought they must play down to their own electorates and regard as of little value to the world.

"The negotiators at Paris differed in their principles and ideals, and some

at least of them do not seem to have

believed in the principles they professed.

Such an attempt would raise a whole crop of new difficulties and problems of adjusting materials for new uses. A Russo-Siberian conflict, with the immense natural wealth of Siberia added to her own would be formidable to her neighbors.

Problems of Turkey.

"For more than two centuries in fact ever since the weakness of the Turkish monarchy became evident and the superficial view of that country.

They believe that the United States is determined to carry out her policy of re-estimating the territories which most of its best men have been removed, some by starvation, many by murder, others by exile, so his task will be all the more difficult.

"But it must be remembered that Russia, herself, once her internal troubles have subsided and she is again a military power, will probably endeavor to reconquer all the territories which she has recently lost except, perhaps, Poland and Finland.

Verdict Handed Down in Granite City in the Case of William Debowski.

The verdict that William Debowski, of East St. Louis, who was found early Sunday morning fatally injured on a trestle of the Alton Granite City & St. Louis Traction Co., near Madison, Ill., and died a few hours later, was struck by a car, was returned by the Coroner's jury in Granite City just now.

The conductor testified that Debowski, who boarded the car with some friends at Second and Cambridge streets, had been drinking and was boisterous and after crossing the trestle was let off and taken down the track from the Joseph Sminkus, who was with him, testified that he plunged head first down the embankment, but he did not know whether the conductor pushed him. It was an hour later when he was found injured on the trestle.

DECREASE IN OIL SHIPPED FROM TAMPOO FIELD IN MAY

Drop Attributed to Marine Strike and to Restricted Market for Mexican Oil in U. S.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—A marked decrease in the petroleum cargoes shipped out of the Tamboo (Mexico) district in May was reported to the Commerce Department yesterday by Vice Consul Hickerson. During May, he said, the shipments totaled 13,766,537 barrels, a drop of 2,076,212 barrels from the April exports and of 4,835,961 barrels from the record shipments of January, 1921.

The marked decrease, Hickerson said, was attributed to the recent marine strike with its consequent jump of shipping and to a restricted market for Mexican crude oil in the United States. The amount shipped to this country in May, he continued, was 9,522,693 barrels, or 69.4 per cent of the total representing a decrease of 1,358,476 barrels from April exports to the United States, Cuba, England, Canada, Argentina and the Bermuda Islands, he added, followed the United States in the order named.

The building was damaged $500.

MISS MARY JOHNSON, 30 years old, now living in Portsmouth, N. H., is the plaintiff, and she declares in the papers filed by her attorneys in this city that Searies made false to her and asked her to marry him in a room after the two had met in a tea room. Until that time, Miss Johnson avers, she had had no relations with any man, but succumbed to the approaches of Searies after he had indicated to her that he was unmarried.

The Deputy Sheriff who was to serve the papers on Searies was notified at his home in Boston that Searies is now on a yachting trip and is not expected home for a month. All of Searies' property in this State, however, is affected by an attachment.

Miss Johnson's attorneys, O'Rourke and Hughes, of this city, said that they did not know where Miss Johnson was located, although she had been in almost constant telephone communication with them since deciding a few days ago to sue Searies.

She claims that she first met Searies at Portsmouth on Feb. 22, 1919, again on the 25th, and that on the 27th Searies asked for her hand in marriage. She also sets the latter date as the time when their intimacy began, and asserts that on that day she asked him to marry her. She gave her promise in good faith, she declares, not knowing that he was married. Some time afterward, she declares, she learned that Searies had a wife and her friendly relations with the millionaire then ceased.

Searies' attorney is Sherman L. Whipple of Boston, who also represented him in the Essex County Probate Court when the young man was seeking his share in the estate of his uncle, settling the case by accepting a award of $5,000.00.

BAILS AND STEELS FEATURE TRADING ON STOCK MARKET

Transportation Shares React in Late Session After Early Strong and Active Trade—Industrials Are Irregular.

Leased Wire From the New York Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial report today, says:

"Trading on the Stock Exchange started on an active basis with prices generally higher, with the transportation stocks and steel stocks the feature. Subsequently, however, profit-taking appeared and certain individual issues, among which American Sugar was conspicuous, declined. The market closed irregularly. In the afternoon oil stocks again ruled and the final sales for the day approximated half a million. Rail stocks showed some losses of about 1 point toward the close, while industrials were irregular throughout."

Call Money was at 5½ per cent throughout.

Foreign Exchange Firm.

A firmer tone was apparent among the foreign exchanges, the initiative remaining with the bidders. The dollar, as has recently been the case, was Sterling was unchanged at $1.2584, while French francs after slight heaviness at the start showed an advance of 1½ points, to 144. The German mark was also up, starting at 1.21 cents, but ran up to 1.22 cents to produce actual transactions. At the latter figure the price was unchanged. The Scandinavian exchange market was firm. Another moderate amount of business was done.

"Wheat reacted as a result of the lack of insistent export demand. After being up to 1.21 cents, it started at 1.21 cents, but ran up to 1.22 cents to produce actual transactions. At the latter figure the price was unchanged. The Scandinavian exchange market was firm. Another moderate amount of business was done.

After being up to 1.21 cents, it started at 1.21 cents, at which price the net was 1¾ cents. Cotton trading was lacking in novel features, with prices generally higher. Gold prices advanced 3.07 cents and after reacting to 1.20 was still up 11 points on the day.

Index Number Higher.

An increase in the Dow Jones of Wholesale commodity prices during the month of July was approximately 3½ per cent and is the first interruption to a decline which began in May. Four of the seven groups making up the index are continuing an upward trend, another showing a slight increase in the price of these commodities that the change in trend of the index as a whole is due. Of the other three groups, clothing shows an advance, while foodstuffs with the miscellaneous group remain unchanged and metals have fallen again by slightly more than 5 per cent. It would appear, accordingly, that agricultural products, which had been the chief source of our war powers are showing the greatest signs of rallying power. At the same time it must be admitted that all available evidence points to a distinct slackening in the rate at which the general level of commodity prices has been falling.

Steel Trade Settlement Better.

In somewhat better sentiment, based on the larger number of firms recently in evidence, exists the steel trade. Prices nevertheless showed no tendency to rally. On the contrary, the leading companies are anxious to obtain any sizable increase in their prices, and will quote figures even below certain of the low prices established during the past week or two. More railroad repair orders have encouraged car builders to believe that the turn comes in this kind of buying, but the belief is according to Iron Age, that the increase in the volume of this business will be gradual for some time.

The depth of the depression into which the steel industry has fallen may be judged, meanwhile, by the country's pig iron production in July. Output for the month amounted to only 85,000 tons, which is a fifth less than the 175,000 tons produced in December, 1923. The daily average, furthermore, was 27,500 tons, which compares with 106,200 tons during last October. July's production, in fact, was such as to require the operation of only about one-fourth of the country's productive capacity."

CURB EXCHANGE

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

PRICE RANGE NOT WIDE
IN LOCAL GRAIN TRADE

HOG RUN IS MODERATE, MARKET STEDY TO LOWER

NATIONAL STOCKARDS, Ill., Aug. 3.—Today's estimated receipts: Cattle and calves, 5,000; hogs, 7,500; sheep, 3,000; horses and mules, 100.

Market was steady to lower. Hogs futures closed lower on the Mercantile Exchange today. The wheat market was strong throughout the part of the session. There were some sharp price movements, but after this session, the price of the leading wheat was sharply. Commission houses on both sides, but appeared to be the market, which has not been the time affected considerably by the fact that a little after the opening of the market selling by brokers was the price of the leading wheat sharply. Commission houses had been closed with other prices. Prices were $4 to 15¢ higher than before.

Market futures had a narrow range in the early period, settling both and under and over last night's close. Corn was slightly higher, but the corn situation was again talk of letting up in the grain market. St. Louis grain receipts today were:

Wheat, 1,000 bushels; corn, 1,000

barrels local and 36 through east

92 cars local; hay, 161 tons local and 89

cars west; oats, 100 barrels

Northwestern car lots in St. Louis today were:

Wheat, 650,000 bushels; corn, 1,000

barrels; oats, non local, 36,000 bushels; wheat flour, 847,000 bushels;

barley flour, 36,000 bushels; flour, 2,600,000 bushels; flour, 3,630,000 last year;

barley flour, 600,000 last year;

oats, 225,000 bushels in today;

barley flour, 2,034,000 last year;

oats, 453,000 last week, 304,000 last year;

barley flour, 653,400 last week,

631,000 last year.

Butter, Eggs and Poultry

St. Louis commission houses held the market steady today. Farmers' country stations for round lots of the various grades—small orders were usually quoted.

SAYS EAST SIDE PARK DEAL WILL GO THROUGH

F. P. Ernest Jr. Asserts State Treasurer's Firm Will Be Held to Contract.

Edward E. Miller, State Treasurer of Illinois and head of the real estate firm of Bowman & Miller, East St. Louis, yesterday addressed a letter to Finis P. Ernest Jr., president of the East St. Louis Park Board, relieving the board of the agreement to purchase 62 5-10 acres of land adjoining Jones Park, which the Park Board on July 19 agreed to purchase for $2000 an acre.

The real estate firm had obtained options on the ground ranging from $750 an acre to $3200 an acre. The board and the seller agreed to purchase from Mrs. Lydia Williamson a tract of 19 acres adjoining that on which Bowman & Miller had optioned at $2000 an acre. The board also purchased 19 acres on the bluffs east of East St. Louis from Harry S. Kramer, member of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, for $900 an acre.

Ernest said today the Park Board would hold the Bowman & Miller firm to its contract. The Park Board will meet next Tuesday.

Resolutions were adopted yesterday by the board of directors of the East St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, saying:

"The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce hereby give ratification to public opinion in disapproving the Park Board negotiations for any considerable additional park area at this time," and asking the board not to carry out the negotiations to an actual purchase.

Opposition to the purchase of the three tracts is based on the contention that the land is not necessary for park purposes. The Park Board has a tract of 1134 acres, known as the Pittsburg Lake bed, which has not been improved for park purposes. The persons and organizations opposing the purchase of additional ground at this time hold that the lake property should be improved before additional ground is purchased.

Miller, in his communication to Ernest, states that the firm's offer is withdrawn, and that if the board still desires to purchase the land it may do so through condemnation proceedings, wherein the price to be paid will be fixed by a jury. "As far as Bowman & Miller are concerned," said Miller, "this transaction is a closed incident, and I do not care whether the Park Board takes the land by condemnation proceedings or not."

SEVEN INDICTMENTS AGAINST TWO MEN IN THEFTS OF AUTOS

Edward J. Bernhardt and Patrick Conway Charged with Larceny and Receiving Stolen Property.

The grand jury yesterday returned seven different joint indictments for grand larceny and receiving stolen property against Edward J. Bernhardt, who is declared to be proprietor of the Bernhardt Motor Sales Co., Grand and St. Louis avenues, and Patrick Conway, in connection with the theft of seven Ford automobiles belonging to St. Louisans since last winter. The automobiles all were recovered recently by detectives.

Some of the automobiles were recovered in the possession of Bernhardt, while others traced possession from Bernhardt. One of the cars was recovered from William F. Flesh of 4411 Gano avenue, whom testimony showed to have been employed by Bernhardt as a mechanic, but who, it was declared, got the car from Conway.

Those whose cars were stolen, and the dates and places the thefts were committed are: Walter L. Hawn, 4448 Nebraska avenue, June 5; downtown; Joseph Sacks, 1167 Walton avenue, Feb. 18; Seventh and Locust streets; Walter L. Beers, 4739 Hammett place, March 28, front of 414 North Broadway; Walter J. Meers, 1351 Cockrell street, July 2; Garrison and Greer avenues; Valle Reyburn, 266 Walton avenue, April 11; Seventh and Locust streets; Louis Saunders, 2659 Olive street, June 13; Fifteenth and Locust streets.

Young Women Tell of Attack.
Miss Blanche Helm, 20 years old, and Miss Kate Bares, 25, both of 7603 Alabama avenue, were taking pictures of the river near Davis street at 3 p. m. yesterday when, they reported to the police, three young men seized them. When the women fought they were struck with a stick. The women grabbed the stick and the men fled.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS .

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads—calomine powder.

To do this get two ounces of calomine powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will find how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a surface dust dirt and secretions from the body that are in the pores of the skin—pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get them out after they become hard. The calomine powder and water will clean out the pores, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anybody troubled with those unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

POLICEMAN FALLS AND HOLDUP MAN ESCAPES

Man Had Stopped Woman on West End Street and Demanded Her Rings.

A man stopped Mrs. William Wallace of 5223 Gates avenue as she was passing between the Soldan High and Clark schools on Gates at 9:30 o'clock last night and demanded rings which she was wearing. She screamed and was heard by Patrolman Hoycraft, who was standing in front of the Soldan school. He ran to her assistance and the man fled. Hoycraft pursued the man, firing his revolver at him, but the man escaped when the policeman tripped and fell in running into a yard.

Man Walks Into Woman's Store and Enquiries Cash Register.
A man walked into the grocery of Mrs. Anna Fiegenblatt, 1901 Biddle street, at 4 p.m. yesterday, and, without a word, went to the cash register, extracted $23 and ran out.
The robbery was so audacious that Mrs. Fiegenblatt stood transfixed until he had escaped.

Walter A. Johnson of Columbus, O., a delegate to the meeting of negro shrimpers shortly after his arrival at 4:30 p.m. yesterday met a negro who said he was a member of the "reception committee" and who volunteered to conduct him to the Negro Y. M. C. A. and to carry his grip. After a time the reception committee, who said the grip was too heavy to carry further, and he deposited it in a house which they were passing. Continuing on, they met a second negro, who also was a member of the reception committee, and a craps game was started, with Johnson an spectator. Soon one of the other negroes cried "Jiggers" and both ran, leaving Johnson alone. He could not find the house where the grip had been left. He said it contained $33, his return ticket and clothes and paraphernalia valued at $180.

Burglars Rob Drug Store.
Burglars got cigars, cigarettes and perfumes valued at $137 from the drug store of Harry Antis, 2549
North Fourteenth street, last night.
A watch and $19 were taken from the home of Albert F. Morecock, 2666A Botanical avenue. The upper flat at 5517 Bright, occupants of which were absent, was ransacked.
The lower flat, occupied by Alex
Walsh also was entered and a revolver taken.

Emin Cooper of 4937 Maffitt avenue, yesterday received a telegram from his wife, who is in Michigan, to join her at once. He hurried home and found that most of the clothes he had intended to pack had been taken by burglars.

Woman Says She Saw Escaped Prisoner at Kirkwood Home.

Notifies Police Thomas Skinner Obtained Food at Her Home.

This Morning.
Mrs. John Leykan of 434 Taylor avenue, Kirkwood, reported to the police there today that Thomas Skinner, 21 years old, an ex-convict, who escaped Monday night from the city hospital, where he was being held a prisoner on a charge of grand larceny, had appeared at her home at 7 a.m. today, asking for something to eat.

She said that while her mother-in-law was preparing two sandwiches for Skinner, she obtained a newspaper which contained a picture of Skinner and, making a supposition, thought he came to the conclusion that the man at the door was one and the same.

Mrs. Leykan said that upon arising she had observed a man asleep under a tree near her home and that he shortly afterward appeared at her door. When he departed she summoned the Kirkwood police. She observed the man stop at another kitchen door in the neighborhood and obtain additional food, she said, but when the police arrived he had disappeared.

Skinner was arrested the night of July 21 when he was seen to jump from a ladder that had been placed against the Central States Life Insurance Co. building at 2207 Washington avenue. The building, it was found, had been entered by a burglar. Skinner served three and one-half years of a five-year sentence for burglary, having been released from the penitentiary six weeks ago. He was taken to the city hospital after his arrest for treatment for tuberculosis.

SAYS FEELING OF BEING STARED AT IS NOTHING

Northwestern U. Psychologist Gives 'Simple' Explanation, as Result of Normal Actions.

By the Associated Press.
EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 5.—Science finds nothing in telepathy—nor even in being "stared at" and is mighty doubtful about prenatal markings. Dr. Forrest L. Dillmick of Northwestern University's department of psychology told summer students here yesterday in a lecture on "Telepathy, Scientifically Treated." Here is some of the scientist's dictum on the unseen:

The mantle of Eli Oliver Lodge's great name as a physician can't be stretched to cover his work in physical research.

"Tests have given no evidence for a general or special faculty among normal individuals for receiving thought messages."

"We have removed from the ordinary mortal the hope that he may communicate to his fellow man in some out of the ordinary manner."

"Experiments with 'sensitives' or 'psychics' showed them no more accurate in their chosen field than in the guessing of cards."

In approximately 15,000 cases of attempted transmission there is not a single shred of evidence in support of the telepathic hypothesis. The results are definitely negative. American and British societies have failed to establish its validity.

"As to how a particular case is to be explained we can only point to the several means of not easily detectable but perfectly normal communication that have been studied.

"Concerning the feeling of being stared at, we can say that it in no way depends upon the gaze of any person, that it arises when one is in a social situation in which he knows that he may be stared at from behind; that it consists of sensations from one's back and imagery of what may be behind him; that the movements of the head and hands, involuntarily aroused by these sensations and images catch the attention of some one or several persons behind so that when he does turn he finds some individual staring at him. This analysis is a simple one, so simple, indeed, that anyone of you may try it out in part or in whole to satisfy yourself."

SOUTHEAST MISSOURI FARM DISPLAY AT UNION STATION

Old Terminal Hotel Barroom crowded With Huge Cornstalks and Large Watermelons.

The Southeast Missouri Exhibit was opened today in the old bar of the Terminal Hotel, at the west end of the Union Station. A complete agricultural collection from Butler, Cape Girardeau, Dunklin, Mississippi, New Madrid, Pemiscot, Scott and Stoddard counties, has been installed, ranging from huge ears of corn on stalks, which tower almost to the ceiling, to watermelons, surprisingly large.

The Food, secretary of the Southeast Missouri Agricultural Bureau, who is in active charge of the exhibit, said the exhibit would be a permanent one, a lease having been taken on the room for a period of five years. The expenses will be paid by the farmers and merchants of the eight counties. While the bureau is not trying to sell land, it is trying to attract more settlers to Southeast Missouri. 3,000,000 acres of swampy land having been made arable by reclamation in recent years.

A banquet, marking the formal opening of the exhibit was given at the Claridge Hotel at 12:30 today. Thad Snow of Charleston, president of the Agricultural Bureau, and George Hyde and Mayor Kiel spoke. A large delegation of residents of the eight counties arrived last night to attend the banquet.

BULGARIAN ASSEMBLY ADOPTS LAW TO SUPPRESS TERRORISM

Hundreds of Citizens Spend Night in Search for Who Was Kidnapped In Auto.

MUSKOGEE, Ok., Aug. 3.—Belief that Malcolm Etheridge, 17 years old, who disappeared late yesterday, was not kidnapped at first thought, was expressed today by Ed Malone, Chief of Police. Chief Malone called the apparent kidnapping a "hoax." Five hundred citizens who had been arrested by the police spent most of the night in a vain search for the missing boy.

Etheridge disappeared yesterday after telling relatives he was going to a theater.

The police yesterday expressed the belief that he had been killed. The only definite clue they had to work upon, however, was furnished by persons who said they had seen Etheridge dragged into a motor car in the downtown section late yesterday.

Etheridge was robbed a month ago when on duty at a filling station. Three days later he was kidnapped and found bound and gagged 24 hours afterward in an abandoned shop. Two men and a woman were arrested in connection with the kidnapping and their hearings are set for today in the City Court.

THREE HELD IN $10,000 BAIL IN KILLING OF SID HATFIELD

By the Associated Press.

BELGRADE, Jugoslavia, Aug. 3. —A law for the suppression of terrorism, which its advocates said, "was inspired by similar measures in the United States and Russia," was adopted yesterday by the National Assembly in special session. The measure dissolves communist organizations and provides the penalties of death for insurrection for attempts to change the form of Government, death for attempts to kill persons or political authorities, and imprisonment for public workers who strike or who interfere with the freedom of workers.

Communists, under the law, are not eligible to hold office.

Negro Manual Exhibit to Close. The closing exhibit of the L'ouverture Grade Manual School will be held from 7:30 to 10:30 tonight at the school, 2612 Main street. This is the only Negro manual school in the city for negroes and this is the first year the Board of Education has conducted such a school. Nearly 800 pupils are enrolled.

Missing Husband Held in Cleveland. Charles F. Harrison, 25 years old, of 1425A Burd avenue, reported as having disappeared from his home July 16 by his wife, Mrs. Mable Harrison, who also told the police a girl living in the 3900 block on Lindell boulevard had disappeared about the same time, was arrested yesterday in Cleveland, O., according to telegrams to the police here. Mrs. Harrison obtained a warrant against her husband charging abandonment of his two children.

Skobel filed a divorce suit and an injunction suit Saturday to restrain Mrs. Skobel from removing anything from safe deposit boxes at the Vandeventer Trust Co. and the Mercantile Trust Co. After obtaining a temporary injunction he withdrew the divorce suit.

SENATE COMMITTEE TO HEAR LAST TARIFF WITNESSES TODAY

Chairman Penrose Announces Democrats Will Participate in Executive Consideration of Bill.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—The Senate Finance Committee virtually concluded its hearings yesterday on American valuation provisions in the Ford tariff bill preparatory to determining later in the week whether they shall be retained as the basis of assessing duties. Three witnesses remain to be heard on the subject today. Chairman Penrose announced that Democrats as well as Republican committee members would participate in the executive consideration of the subject.

Many senators believe the American valuation section as drafted by the House has a small chance of receiving committee approval. It is said that none of the Democratic committee members favor it, and that several Republicans oppose it.

The point was made yesterday by Thomas J. Doherty of New York, representing the National Council of Importers and Traders, that the House bill had given no definition of the terms "comparable" and "competitive." He declared they could be considered in a score of ways and that the net result would be an endless tangle of controversies over whether particular imports had counterparts in the American wholesale market. He also asked the committee for a construction of the phrase "principal market," from which, under the bill, the prices for the home valuation must be taken for assessing duties.

Four ships for the U. S. largest ever built in China

Two of 10,500 tons each completed and two others will soon be ready.

By the Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 1.—Work of installing engines and mechanical equipment in the hulls of the steamers Oriental and Cathay is proceeding rapidly, and it is believed that when completed they will be the largest ships which are the last of four built in Shanghai for the United States Shipping Board. The first two of the four vessels are the Mandarin and Celestial, which have been completed.

The building of the four vessels, all sister ships of 10,500 tons, is a distinct achievement for Chinese builders and marks a noteworthy advance in the industry of shipbuilding in this country, for they are the largest boats ever built in China. Reporters of the American Shipping Board, who have done a great deal of work in the United States, say that the Mandarin, which is due to be delivered this month, will be one of the best ships of the many constructed for the shipping board.

It is the belief of officers of the Kiangnan Dock and Engineering Co. builders of the four vessels, that all four will live up to the standard set by the Mandarin.

ARNOLD DALY, BACK IN U. S., TO PRESENT SEVERAL NEW PLAYS

The Children's Tragedy Will Be Opening Production at Greenwich Village Theater.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Arnold Daly, who arrived back in America a few days ago after a two months' trip abroad, said yesterday he was making arrangements for opening his repertory theater wherein he would present a new play at least once every two months, beginning Oct. 10. He has selected the Greenwich Village Theater as his playhouse and the first production to be made there will be Carl Shorin's play, "The Children's Tragedy," which may be followed on the same bill by another short play, probably "The Master" also will be played.

George Bernard Shaw's "The Man of Destiny," based upon Napoleon's life.

While abroad Daly arranged for the production here of Edmond Rostand's "The Last Night of Don Juan," which he says is surprisingly fine, and which probably will go to follow the opening bill. Later will come "The Andromache" and a revival of "Candida." Herman Bahr's "The Master" also will be played.

HOMICIDE VERDICT IN DEATH OF LOUIS STAPP

Coroner's Jury Holds Neighbor Who Shot City Fireman, Who Was Prize Fighter.

A verdict of homicide was returned by a Coroner's jury today in the death of Louis Stapp, 28 years old, of 2821 South Eighteenth street, a city fireman, who was shot at 8 p.m. Monday by Mont H. Le Grand, 32, of 2819 South Eighteenth street.

Mrs. May Roundy of 2821 South Eighteenth street testified that Stapp had threatened Le Grand and that Le Grand had said he wanted no trouble and only wanted his children left alone.

Le Stapp testified that she was crossing the street when her husband came home and she saw Le Grand standing with a revolver in his hand. He said: "Even if you are a prize fighter, I've got you where I want you." She started back and heard two shots. She said her husband had warned Le Grand not to shout at her about the children, but had not threatened him, and that Le Grand had said: "You are a prize fighter, but I will get you yet." She had had a few words with Le Grand that evening before her husband came home.

Le Grand did not testify. He told the police he had the shooting and laid the revolver in the doorway, to be used if he needed it, that Stapp struck him and that before firing, he warned Stapp to stand back. He is held without bond.

14-FOOT WALL OF WATER DOES DAMAGE AT CANON CITY

Quick Action by Rescue Parties in Boats Prevents Loss of Life.

By the Associated Press.
CANON CITY, Colo., Aug. 8.—Prompt action of rescue parties in boats prevented loss of life here last night when a 14-foot wall of water swept down the Arkansas River out of the Royal Gorge. Seven residences were destroyed, manufacturing plants were damaged and the city water system put out of commission.

The flood was caused by a cloudburst above here in the Royal Gorge. The Denver and Rio Grande Railroad tracks were washed out above Canon City and in a spot below the city. The station of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Co. was flooded. Considerable damage was done also at Florence.

PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 8.—The Arkansas River in Pueblo was within three feet of the levees top at 2:30 o'clock this morning, but danger of a new flood is believed to have passed. The flood stage of the river was the result of cloudbursts yesterday in the Royal Gorge and surrounding hills above Canon City.

The night superintendent of the Arkansas Valley Light & Power Co. here announced that a cloudburst between Lime and Fisher, southeast of here, had sent the St. Charles River over its banks and washed out a highway bridge on the Santa Fe Trail at the junction of the St. Charles and Arkansas Rivers. Power lines and telephone service between here and La Junta were out of commission early today.

JEWELERS FILE $10,060 CLAIM AGAINST ESTATE OF G. M. OYSTER

800 Diamond Wedding Ring Was One of Articles Purchased by 71-Year-Old Bachelor Last January.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Galt and Bro., well-known Washington jewellers, yesterday filed a claim of $10,060.25 against the estate of the late George M. Oyster, the 71-year-old dairyman who last January married Miss Cecil Ready, 26 years old, of Syracuse, N. Y. A $600 diamond wedding ring was among the purchased made. Other articles purchased were a diamond bracelet, $2700; a diamond brooch, $2000; a gold vanity case, $230; a diamond bracelet, $2100, and a gold drinking cup, $60.

Court officers are now making an inventory of the Oyster estate, and the young widow has not yet decided whether she will take the $25,000 left her by her husband or try to break the will and get more. She has six months to decide what she will do in this matter.

The purchases of jewelry were made from Jan. 1 to March 14. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson owns a large share of Galt and Bro.

BACHELOR LEFT $84,845 ESTATE

Holdings of Henry Gross to Go to Two Brothers and Sister-in-Law.

An inventory of the estate of Henry Gross, 76 years old, a former bank officer, railroad builder and mine owner, who died July 1 at his home, 2932 West Belle place, was filed yesterday. It shows personal property consisting principally of bonds, valued at $34,845, and the West Belle place residence. Gross owned $74,400 of Liberty bonds. He was a bachelor and left his estate to his two brothers, John B. and Charles L., and the latter's wife. A will made eight days before his death, in which he cut out his brother Charles, with $1 and left the whole estate for the benefit of the other brother was rejected on the statement of a witness that he did not believe that testator was of sound and disposing mind when he executed the document. A will of earlier date, in which Charles Gross and the latter's wife, were bequeathed over half of the estate, was then accepted for probate.

It will be filed in the Probate Court.

SLIDING RATES

As you all know, Union Electric's residence lighting rates (except in 1919, when coal prices went kiting) have always "slid" one way—downward. In 1912 the average price paid by our St. Louis residence lighting customers per kilowatt hour of energy used was 8.89 cents. This year their average rate is 5.37 cents. We doubt whether residence lighting customers in any other large American city are being served as cheaply. We take too much pride in the quality of Union Electric service to admit for a minute that any other city is being served better than St. Louis.

But there is a group of Union Electric customers—the power buyers—whose rates have slid both ways. Sixty per cent of the Company's power sales are made under contracts which provide that the rates shall rise and fall with the Company's coal and labor costs. Customers of this big group cheerfully paid higher rates when coal and labor costs were rising; they are now getting lower rates as these costs decline.

No kicking. No gouging. No wrangling before the Public Service Commission. Just plain old-fashioned fair play, working both ways, and fully understood by both parties. These big men know that a prosperous, efficient, growing electric service system is indispensable to their own growth and the community's. Their good will, expressed in fair and friendly co-operation, is one of the valued assets of this business. The thousands of St. Louis district savings investors who have bought, and are still buying, Union Electric 7% preferred shares, are safeguarded by this friendly attitude of the business leaders of the community toward this Company.

These shares cost $100 each and are always salable at that price. Each share pays a cash dividend of $1.75, by mail, every three months. You can buy them on time payments—$10 a month on each share, and get 7% interest on your payments.

Uncommon Sense

By John Blake.

LOYALTY

A NATION prospers if its citizens are loyal. A firm prospers if its employees are loyal. An individual prospers in proportion to his loyalty to his ideals and the standards he has set for himself. A great business enterprise that has passed through many trials really went bankrupt.

The reason given by the president was the lack of loyalty on the part of his employees.

"They did not believe in me or in the concern," he said. "Instead of boasting it, they knocked it. They told our customers that we were a bad firm to work for and that our methods were not square. What could we expect but bankruptcy?"

As a matter of fact, this man's employees were not loyal to him because he was not loyal to them.

I distrusted them, and set other men to watch them.

When he needed men for important positions, he invariably went outside instead of promoting those who had served him faithfully.

And, worst of all, he convinced them of his disloyalty by giving them inferior goods to sell and thus destroying the confidence that customers had reposed in them.

From the minute that this man became the head of the concern it was doomed. There was not loyalty on either side, and loyalty is the rock on which honest business is founded.

If you work for a man, be loyal to him. If loyalty is impossible get another boss. Be sure you will never advance if you cannot trust your employer and serve him with everything that is in you.

If you are an executive, be loyal to the men under you. Pick them out carefully and trust them and back them.

They will make mistakes, but so does everyone else. Stand behind them as long as you can. If they are unworthy of your trust, get new men.

Mutual trust and mutual esteem are vital to business as they are in everything.

LOYALTY WINS FOOTBALL GAMES AND WAR. Nothing prospers without it.

And you as an individual will find that unless you are loyal to yourself and to your beliefs, you are going to be of very little account in this world.

THE office gossip has his good points. You can tell him—confidentially—the things you yearn to utter to the office pests. He will do the rest.

The shrewdest woman never can be sure whether a man is trying to propose to her or trying not to—the symptoms in either case are so similar.

A girl's first love is desired by none except youths and graybeards; other men prefer not to be the subjects of experiment.

A man's code of honor demands that he shall not make love to the wife of his friend; the parallel provision is unnecessary in a woman's code, because she feels for her friend's husband only hostility thinly veiled by tolerance.

The woman who robs the cradle to find a husband proves by her act that she is nearing her own second childhood.

Why some women are cynics—because whenever one of them performs an unusually clever piece of work somebody whispers, "What MAN did that—and let HER take the credit?"

A man's idea of being helpful in the home is to suggest a Sunday dinner twice as elaborate as his wife had planned and then offer to mix the salad dressing.

Kisses are the footnotes in a love passage—and footnotes are usually the most interesting part of the text.

knife and, in case there might be a scrapping in the dark, I shone an electric torch into the pocket of my coat. That as much for the moral effect which might be looked for from a comical and giant like myself bristling with weapons like a porcupine with quills, I picked up one of the rifles, then started off to reconnoiter the source of the light which gleamed out now and then through the heavy growth.

I had not gone far when I came to a giant tree, of which the dropping foliage must have sterilized the ground with its aromatic matter as there was a bare space for 50 feet around its trunk, and in the bright moonlight I could see that it was hung thick with long swinging bird's nests.

Its boughs were widely spaced with no great amount of foliage and coming under my eye fell on a bulky pear-shaped object the size of a wine barrel which dangled well out from the trunk on a bough the thickness of a big ship's royal yard. It looked like a bell and walking under it I saw that it was indeed a bell, three feet across the mouth, such as were hung in the early Spanish missions, and the moonlight showed it to all ends with Latin script belike and figures of animals and angels.

It was suspended on a section of ship's iron cables of that early iron which supports the weather, like the grills of Spanish houses and the iron work about their balconies, which fakes with age a black tarnish instead of the red rust of the cheap stuff we forge today. I could see that the chain came straight out of the part of the limb, the bark having long ago covered what encircled it.

"Thought you had me torpedoed, what?" says he.

"Haw! haw!" says the high-featured gentleman, his grin, "some strategy, old top. Went through his net and then fouled a blade-Law's set." He raked up his cigar at an angle and picked up the score at his side. "That must set us about 50,000 pounds to windward."

"Oh! a mere bagatelle, Sir Harry," said the snappy-looking young officer at his right. "We fish that out of the hole in about an hour's time."

"Losh! sir, but it flashed through my mind that here, indeed, was a gentleman's game, and a rare set of sports, who took so carelessly the winning and losing of a little matter of 50,000 pounds. But it was not for me to eavesdrop longer or stand there spinnin' on their little pastimes, so I have myself up the step and inside."

"I wish you good evening, Lieut. King, and you gentlemen," said I.

Now one might have expected the apparition of a grizzled auld bogie like myself fillin' the doorway as big as it was to have given these adventures a bit of a start. From the stakes they were playin' it was evident they had come up the post diggin's which for over 200 years had been safeguarded by this broodin' death that hung on all sides. Yet not one of them so much as budged from his place, nor reached for a weapon.

Mr. King turned slowly to look me over and as he did so, Sir Harry leans back a little, tilts up his chin and says in just such a voice as he would have used had he come upon a poacher in his park: "Pon my word! Now where did this rummy old handit drop from? Bless me if he hasn't got exactly the phiz of a black-maned lion that looked into my wattle but one night down in the Masai country."

"The Lion" was the nickname given me by the black boys of that same region, sir," said I. "But as you may see, I'm a lion that does not have to spring to make his kill, so I should advise that you gentleman on the litter couch let fall his hand which is stealin' up toward the pistol hanging on the wall."

For, bein' of a wary nature, my eyes were not confined entirely to the one spot, the more so as no man at the table seemed to notice him.

He was the black boy of that same region, sir," said I. "But as you may see, I'm a lion that does not have to spring to make his kill, so I should advise that you gentleman on the litter couch let fall his hand which is stealin' up toward the pistol hanging on the wall."

"By gorry! I'm not so audacious as to have him beat me," said he, for I had often entertained the young gentleman with my yarns in the little house on Pleasant street.

"Sir Harry," says he, "this is my good friend Capt. Andrew MacGill. That boy Cheffy must have managed it after all."

"He managed it so well, Mr. King," said I, "that he and Mr. Dennis are lyin' at this moment in a sorry state and at the foot of a big tree hard by. Understandin' that he had been first rescued and then kidnapped, we hastened to your aid. But this can wait. We are not here to discuss the merits of these gentlemen to their fint, but only to demand your person, and such reparations for their high-handed act as may seem reasonable."

"Pon my soul, Captain," says Sir Harry, in his explosive voice, "but appointment so pleasantly missed he has another plan. "I know him. I ought to be there at this time, to do."

"He wants me to think that he has gone straight back to the Old Pasture. If that is what he wants me to do, I didn't want to arouse his suspicions, but I know just as well as if I had that he watched me out of sight," thought Reddy. Then he grinned. "It was a crafty, sly, wicked grin. "That old log is open only on one end so Peter can see only in one direction without coming out," continued Reddy to himself. "He'll wait until I come so he waits for me to come out he'll have a long wait. I need a good sleep, anyway, and this is the time to get it."

So Peter made himself comfortable and went to sleep. Reddy Fox crept to take a nap, for he had been out all night, but he was afraid that if he did Peter might slip out and away and he knew nothing about it. Had he known that Peter was taking a nap he would have taken one. But he didn't know it and so he kept his eyes open watching that old log.

Jolly, round, bright Mr. Sun crept higher and higher in the blue, blue sky and the heat grew and grew until even down there in the swamp under the ferns and trees it became hard to bear. Reddy began to pant. He wished he was back in his home in the ground in the Old Pasture. He always could sit there. Mosquitoes and flies tormented him. But a Rabbit dinner would be worth all this and so he was patient.

Meanwhile inside that old hollow log Peter Rabbit was waiting and also doing some thinking. Reddy Fox would have been surprised could he have known Peter's thoughts. He would, indeed. And he wouldn't have been quite so sure of that dinner.

Reddy trotted off quite as if he were going just where he said, back to the Old Pasture. He was altogether too friendly in his talk and he left too soon and in too much of a hurry. While he was in sight he didn't once look back. He all but caught me that time and the red-coated sinner isn't one to take a dip.

Such a dinner was worth being patient for.

Such a dinner was worth being patient for.

Meanwhile inside that old hollow log Peter Rabbit was waiting and also doing some thinking. Reddy Fox would have been surprised could he have known Peter's thoughts. He would, indeed. And he wouldn't have been quite so sure of that dinner.

Reddy trotted off quite as if he were going just where he said, back to the Old Pasture. He was altogether too friendly in his talk and he left too soon and in too much of a hurry. While he was in sight he didn't once look back. He all but caught me that time and the red-coated sinner isn't one to take a dip.

Such a dinner was worth being patient for.

DAILY MAGAZINEMORE TRUTH THAN POETRY
By James J. Montague.

EXPEDITING LEGISLATION.

At first we were given a bit of shock,
When a statesman suggested last week
That he had to come to a dispute that arose
By a biff on the Senator's back.
It seemed to us dreadful that men should employ
The uppercut, wallops and swing
And lams to the jaws in the making of laws,
As they do to gain fame in the ring.

And yet when we thought of the days we have spent
In the echoing chambers of State,
And sagged in our chair while the ambient air
Was filled with the noise of debate,
It seemed that a lightning like clip on the ear
Would silence much word-burdened din,
And that language expressed by a slam on the chest
Might be better than limitless chin.

Today, when a measure comes up for a vote
The Senators all take the floor,
And before there's a chance for the bill to advance
They talk for a fortnight or more.
But if all the members jumped into a ring
And wallop were savagely pried,
They would rush through the bills and give plenty of thrills
To the eager spectator beside.

Our elderly uncle arises to say
That if statesmen resort to a fight,
In settling their differences making the laws,
They'll never be sure they are right.
However, we've found a convincing reply
To this carpings objection of his;
And he's bound to admit our contention, to-wit:
They seldom are right as it is!

ONE OBJECTION.

That proposed duty on leather would shut out a lot of the beef steaks that are now current in this country.

NOT SO EASY.
Now if Mr. Davis can show Congressmen how to save their jobs as diplomatic difficulties.

The Place for Alphonse.

"Alphonse," said the heiress, "I have been thinking."

"Thinking of me, precious?" asked Alphonse.

"Indeed, yes; I have been thinking—if you married me, everybody would say you only did so to get my money."

"What care I for the unthinkable world?"

"But, Alphonse, I will marry you."

"My own dar—"

"And I will not have people say unkind things about you, so I have arranged to give my fortune to the missionaries. Why, Alphonse, where are you going?"

Alphonse paused long enough on his way to the door to look back and mutter: "I'm going to be a missionary."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Tele-

Tillie: Say, you saw that big boy beating the little one. Why didn't you stop it? Suppose you had been the little boy?

Willie: I didn't think of that and was going to stop the fight when I got to thinking suppose I was the big boy?—St. Joseph News-Paper.

The Judge: No two of your wit-you explain that?
